SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An anthropologist said today that human bone fragments and teeth found on the Pacific island of Saipan were not the remains of Amelia Earhart and her navigator.

WINNIPEG (CP)—A seven-inch overnight snowfall slowed traffic to a crawl at morning rush hour today as Winnipeg got its first real taste of winter.

Riots in Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—A mob of 2,000 Europeans rioted through the streets of Constantine today, burning cars, hurling Molotov cocktails, smashing store windows and attacking Moslem passersby.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today extended the ban against U.S. imports of Cuban sugar for six months, thus depriving Fidel Castro's regime of another $80 million or more in trade.

CHILDREN OF INDIA

City Tots Rally Behind Campaign

A heart-warming feature of the current Times Children of India Fund appeal is the response from Victoria's children.

Every day in the mailbox there come notes from local youngsters enclosing a few cents or a dollar or two.

Some are difficult to read and words sometimes misspelled but the net result is an obvious bond between our children here and pitifully depressed Indian youngsters.

The letter illustrated today is typical of those received by the Times. It was written by seven-year-old Lynda Ash on behalf of her three-year-old sister Kelly and herself.

To judge by the number of letters starting "Dear Mr. Times" a good number of children must think the paper is an old gentleman with a white beard, somewhat like Santa Claus.

"Please take one dollar from myself and Brother for have died and others just "for those who are unable to help themselves."

One woman phoned the Times and was very upset because she could not give "a suitable amount" out of her pension cheque.

She was greatly relieved to hear that as little as a dollar would keep a child alive in India for two months and promised to pass the word on to her friends.

KATANGA

UN Planes Will Be Shot Down

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI)—The Katanga government today threatened to shoot down any United Nations aircraft flying over its territory, the UN reported.

A few hours earlier, Katanga gendarmes killed one Swede of the UN force, wounded two others and seized three prisoners in Elisabethville's worst day of violence since the widespread fighting in September.

UN civilian employees in Elisabethville reported this morning that they had been ordered to pack their belongings and be ready for repatriation to Leopoldville.

George Ivan Smith, top UN official here, said Katangese Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba issued the threat to the planes shortly after midnight.

SERIOUS VIEW

Smith said he told Kimba he took a "most serious view" of the matter and would report it to UN headquarters in New York immediately.

One Swede was shot dead and two wounded Sunday when their car was fired on by Katangese at a roadblock near the centre of the city.

Sunday night, the Katanga government said in a statement that the car tried to crash the roadblock set up by the gendarmes, ignoring challenges from the guards.

The statement claimed the driver was killed when the car crashed into a tree after the gendarmes fired at the car's tires. But an Italian doctor who operated on the two wounded Swedes said they had been shot at "point blank range."

Later, Katangese gendarmes stopped a Swedish UN ambulance and arrested a medical orderly and an official Swedish photographer.

These seizures brought the number of Swedes believed held by the Katangese to 10.

PROVOCATION

In Paris, travelling Katanga president Moise Tshombe said that "everything is perfectly normal at Elisabethville and the whole of Katanga."

He described as "intolerable provocation" the new call of UN acting secretary-general U Thant for restoration of order in Katanga.

Tshombe said the Katanga people now consider the province a free nation and would fight back if the UN "undertakes a new armed intervention in violation of the cease fire" that ended the September fighting.

BRITISH COOL

The French also rolled troops up to the border but the British took no special action.

The United States sent a protest to the Soviet garrison headquarters in East Berlin three hours after the Communists rolled up to the border but there was no immediate reply.

Soviet Note on A-Tests Rejected by Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today revealed that the Soviet Union has sought Canadian support for a nuclear test ban agreement without inspection and including France.

Diefenbaker told newsmen that he had received a Russian note and a letter from Soviet ambassador Amasasp A. Aroutunian outlining the Soviet position on the current Geneva test ban talks.

The note, regarded by diplomatic sources as unusual, suggested an agreement to end nuclear testing, but without the inspection sought by the west. Such an agreement would also include France in addition to the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, Diefenbaker said.

The prime minister gave details of the note following a speech to a conference of ethnic press editors of Canada. He said it was the first of its kind he had received from the Soviet Union.

The disclosure backed up reports in diplomatic circles that Russia may be seeking to use its embassy here as a bridge to understanding with the United States.

Diefenbaker told the editors that such an agreement without provision for inspection would be "one of the most retrograde steps" and meant the abandonment of three years of efforts at Geneva during which Russia apparently sought agreement on inspection procedures.

"The Soviet Union has turned its back on an end to nuclear testing without controls," he said. "If you can't get an agreement in this field, you have to be an optimist to believe that we are approaching an era in which settlements on larger questions can be reached," the prime minister added.

WEST DOESN'T WANT FRANCE IN TEST TALKS

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States and Britain have decided not to back Russia's bid to have France join the nuclear test ban talks, diplomatic sources said today.

Britain and the United States were reported to feel that the conference here should proceed with its present composition of the three original nuclear powers.

Fourth Island Tragedy

An 11-year-old hunter on Sunday shot and killed an elderly man near Buckley Bay, 14 miles south of Courtenay on the Island Highway.

Victim was Murdock MacDonald, 70, a part-time millworker, who was killed instantly at 1:45 p.m. by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

The accident occurred about one mile west of Buckley Bay in a second-growth forest reached by logging roads.

PICKING SALAL

RCMP from Cumberland said the boy fired at what he thought was a deer while the victim was picking salal and other greens for Christmas use.

The boy was hunting with his father and brother, all of Union Bay, about five miles north of the scene of the tragedy. After the shooting the party went to Union Bay to call police.

INQUEST TONIGHT

There have been no charges laid to date, police said.

An inquest will convene tonight in Courtenay, then adjourn to a later date for the hearing of evidence.

The fatality was the fourth to be credited to hunters to date this season on Vancouver Island. The first was at Metchoin, and the second and third only a week apart in the Alberni area.

WAR VETERAN

Mr. MacDonald came from Alberta 14 years ago to make his home at Buckley Bay. He served in both world wars, and took pride in the fact that his four oldest children were in the army in the Second World War.

Surviving are the widow, at home; two sons, Norman and Campbell, Fanny Bay, and three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Daunhauer, 625 Mount View Avenue, Colwood, and Mrs. Wilfred Brass and Edna, on the mainland.

U.K. 'Gutter Millionaires' Accused by Ex-UN Official

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien today charged British "gutter millionaires" with attempting to sabotage the UN Congo operation.

The controversial diplomat, who resigned last week from both his UN post and his position as an assistant in the Irish foreign office, said the British government was doing its utmost to "bring the United Nations operation to nothing."

The goal, O'Brien said, is to gain time for Katangese President Moise Tshombe so that he can establish a separate state.

O'Brien said the British press, led by publishing magnate Lord Beaverbrook, has conducted a hate campaign against him because his actions in Katanga thwarted the interests of British capitalists.

In a news conference, he also blamed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Lord Salisbury, gopper king Charles Waterhouse and Lord Landsdowne for helping thwart the UN Congo operation.

O'Brien also listed Sir Roy Welensky, the Rhodesian prime minister, among those working to "sabotage" the operation.

ON HIS OWN
Simultaneously, Irish minister of external affairs Frank Aiken issued a statement here saying:

O'Brien submitted his resignation on his own initiative. Aiken added that attacks against the 44-year-old Irish career diplomat had been "unfair and unjust."

However, the foreign minister dissociated himself and his government from statements O'Brien issued following his resignation.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

REGINA (CP)—Several schools in the Regina rural health region have been closed as a result of spreading influenza.

Another reason for the boycott was suggested when it was learned the women demanded five shillings (about 70 cents) each when a group of 40 were asked to appear in regalia at a hospital being visited by the Queen. The demand was rejected and only about five showed up.

Chief Minister P. S. Njie, welcoming the Queen after she arrived on the royal yacht Britannia, said Gambia in three centuries, "has become imbued with much that is best in the British way of life."

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

A man fined for exceeding the speed limit offered a novel explanation in Oak Bay court Friday, but to no avail. This is his reasoning:

"I'm a professional driver and drive over 31,000 miles a year, three times more than the average person. Now, everyone makes mistakes at their job, but they don't get fined for them. I do. Is this really fair?"

"I don't quite know," mused Magistrate William Ostler, imposing a $20 fine against Cornelius Van Wittenberg.

Should the centennial committee ever make up its mind to use the Windermere Hotel as a centre for elderly Victorians, it could do no better than rename it after the queen of Edward VII.

Betty Newton of the Provincial Museum recalls the hotel was originally called the Alexandra Club when it housed the first women's club in Canada.

It was named after Alexandra, who had formed a ladies' club in London when she found even the Queen of England was barred from "Clubland."

The Victoria ladies' club was forced to vacate the house due to lack of funds during the First World War, but it did not disband until the Union Club opened its portals to the wives of members. Until the end the club was the hub of communal, patriotic and charitable activities, as well as being the centre of Victoria's fashionable world.

At least three people Sunday night swore they heard the announcer on a Christmas Seals commercial over Channel 6 television say: "Help stamp out TV."

All city police officers have received special instructions for Safe Driving Week, which started Friday.

They have been told to impress upon traffic violators the importance of safe driving and also try to improve police-public relations.

So if you get a traffic ticket this week the officer might:

Smile and apologize for the inconvenience;
Shout at you for breaking the law indiscriminately;
Beg of you on bended knee never to do such a dastardly thing again;

Or shake your hand and compliment you on the wonderful way you made the boo-boo.

At any rate—happy Safe Driving Week.

It was interesting to watch Lt. Col. Peter Ramsay and members of the Canadian Scottish Officers' Mess on Thursday night trying to figure out how they could all get around to visit the other messes in town on New Year's Day and still be "at home" to the rest of the wandering horde seeking the traditional "Athol Brose."

Come December, golfers all over this hallowed land sharpen their stories and stow their clubs, except in Victoria. Here, amid bundles of leaves and howling winds, the dedicated sportsman still trudges from tee to green, shivering in a bundle of woollens.

Just so other golfers all over the country will say "Wish I lived in Victoria."

Wonderful job of teamwork has been done by boys at Victoria's University School. Since March 15, they have collected $14,000 for the construction of a school chapel—and have done most of the building themselves.

During the summer the foundations were dug and the footings poured. This term the boys have completed the framework of the walls and the roof is now being prepared for sheeting.

"We hope to complete the main structure by the spring of 1962," says Peter Caleb, a teacher at the school.

Sunday afternoon the boys added another $125 to the fund by organizing a concert for parents and friends. A program of George Gershwin's best-known compositions, including Porgy and Bess and Rhapsody in Blue, was donated by Victoria pianists George Essihos and Larry Reid.

"We thank them for their generous help," said J. J. Timmis, headmaster.

With the Christmas season now on the threshold, the usual signs are beginning to appear on the back bumpers of cars.

The one seen most often is perhaps this: "If you drive—drink tea." It is a commendable thought, but nevertheless prompted the following question from a Victoria cynic the other day:

"Who puts out that sticker, the Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, or the Canadian Tea Association?"

'I Lost Everything On My Happiest Day'

VANCOUVER (CP)—For 18 months Jean Pirinis, 28, worked as a kitchen maid and saved every dollar to bring her boy friend from Salonica, Greece.

On Saturday she and George Haropoulos, 31, were married. During the reception the bride returned to her suite to change her clothes and found the house in flames.

The fire destroyed her clothes and the couple's wedding gifts. She was left with $80 and a rented wedding gown.

Her husband speaks no English and has no job.

"At last we got married," said Mrs. Haropoulos. "Then on the happiest day of my life I lost everything."

The couple borrowed clothes from relatives and are staying with friends.

MOTORIST TRAPPED IN SNOWBANK

HOPE (CP)—A hand waving from a snowbank led to the rescue of a man trapped four hours in his car off the Hope-Princeton Highway Sunday.

Bert Appleyard, 45-year-old father of six, was bound for the interior when his car slipped off the highway and wedged in a ditch between two snowbanks.

The snow on either side of the car prevented him from opening the doors and snow soon covered the vehicle.

Highways department works foreman Charles Carr spotted Appleyard's hand and called a wrecker to free him. Appleyard was taken to nearby Towers Ranch and treated for mild frostbite.

Soviet Warning Follows U.S. Underground A-Test

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union warned Sunday night that if the Western powers continue to test nuclear weapons—even underground—Russia will resume its own testing.

The warning came just hours before the U.S. atomic energy commission announced in Washington that the United States exploded a low-yield underground nuclear device Sunday in Nevada. The United States also has announced plans to conduct an underground nuclear test in New Mexico next Sunday.

Continued Western tests, whether in the atmosphere or underground, will force the Soviet Union to carry out "such tests of nuclear weapons it considers necessary for the consolidation of its defence capacity," an official statement declared.

The statement, carried by the official Soviet news agency Tass, said the Soviet Union wants to reach agreement on a nuclear test ban treaty with the Western powers at the current deadlocked Geneva talks.

But, it said, the Russians will not look on calmly if the West continues tests "with the aim of perfecting nuclear weapons and attempting thereby to obtain military advantages for the aggressive NATO bloc."

The United States has announced it will carry out any nuclear tests it deems necessary to its security while the Geneva nuclear talks are going on among Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Laos Progress Reported

GENEVA (UPI)—The 14-nation conference on Laos agreed today on four points of a draft declaration of neutrality that could bring peace to that southeast Asian kingdom by Christmas.

The draft declaration was reached despite Communist Chinese charges that the United States was delaying an agreement.

Observers said agreement on all points of a draft declaration appeared closer following today's first meeting of the conference in a month. The delegates met to approve arrangements worked out in four weeks of secret negotiations between Britain's Malcolm MacDonald and Russia's Georgi Pushkin, whose nations are co-chairmen of the parley.

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters)—African nationalists today were reported to have urged British Colonial Secretary Reginald Maudling to draw up a plan which would give this Central African territory its first Negro legislative majority.

Maudling today opened talks with Negro and white political leaders on the explosive issue of Northern Rhodesia's constitution and the Negroes were reported to have asked him to scrap the present British constitutional proposals which led to bloodshed when they were published in June.

Udall Rapped by U.S. Paper

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Washington Post, which strongly supports the Kennedy administration, accuses Interior Secretary Stewart Udall of interfering in the Canadian domestic quarrel over the Columbia River power treaty.

"Ratification of the Columbia River treaty is not likely to be hastened by any interference by American officials in the Canadian controversy over the disposition of Canada's share of the power to be generated," the Post says in an editorial.

"On the contrary, United States interference in a strictly Canadian row might even put the treaty in jeopardy."

The Post notes that Udall denied the charge of Canadian Justice Minister Fulton that the interior secretary was supporting B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett in an attempt to pressure the Canadian government to approve the export of power to the United States.

ability to recover exported power once industries on the American side of the line had been allowed to grow up on the basis of its use.

"The Ottawa government insists on clinging to this no-power-for-export policy despite Mr. Bennett's eagerness to sell Columbia River water for generation of power to American interests so as to finance an ambitious project on the Peace River."

"Regardless of what may be the merits of this policy, the Ottawa government has every right to adhere to it and is clearly in a position to make its decision stick. Any efforts on this side of the border to support the Bennett cause, by way of hastening action on the treaty, are more likely to explode a stick of dynamite beneath it."

Hees Denies Pacific Bloc Move

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Hees denied today a report that Canada has proposed formation of a Pacific trade bloc.

"It's news to me," Mr. Hees said.

The report said the trade group would include Canada, the United States and Japan, with Australia and New Zealand being invited to join later. Its purpose would be to offset losses from Britain's expected entry into the European Common Market.

"I'm not aware of anything of the kind," Mr. Hees said in an interview.

In his budget speech last June, Finance Minister Fleming rejected the idea of Canada joining trade blocs and reasserted Canada's policy of multi-lateral trading arrangements through the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

SUGGESTS "PULL-BACK"

But the Post suggests Udall's statement that he would have nothing to do with the B.C.-Canadian government dispute was nothing more than "a pull-back from his previous attitude."

Even Udall's later statement that contracts can be written guaranteeing that Canada would get the power back on termination of long-term export contracts "falls clearly into the category of interference in the Canadian controversy."

"For the last 40 years Canada has refused to export power to the U.S. This policy was the direct result of its in-

SENATE BID CONSIDERED BY ADLAI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson disclosed Saturday he is considering a race for the U.S. Senate seat from Illinois now held by Everett M. Dirksen, the Republicans' Senate leader.

Emerging from a White House meeting with President Kennedy, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations told reporters Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago had asked him to enter the race.

The former Illinois governor and two-time Democratic presidential nominee said he will make his decision known before the end of this month.

Hopes Revive For Talks on Mindszenty

BUDAPEST (AP)—Deputy Premier Gyula Kallai said today the Hungarian government is ready to negotiate a settlement of the Cardinal Mindszenty issue to improve relations with the United States.

Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, 69, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary, has been in the U.S. Legation since he sought and was given refuge after Russian tanks crushed Hungary's anti-Soviet uprisings in 1956. Police cars wait outside the legation day and night ready to arrest the cardinal if he leaves the building.

The cardinal was serving a life sentence for anti-state activity when he was released by Hungary's rebels. He immediately called for Western support for the uprising and there were reports he might become premier. Then the revolt died.

Kallai said Hungary would refuse to discuss Cardinal Mindszenty as a separate issue but only within the framework of negotiations aimed at improving relations.

DR. MARCEL CHAPUT... 'no rancor'

Separatist Quits Government Post

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. Marcel Chaput, 43-year-old head of a Quebec separatist movement, resigned from the Defence Research Board today after being suspended for two weeks for disobeying board instructions.

Dr. Chaput, a biochemist with DRB, announced his resignation in a statement to the press when he arrived at his office this morning. He then called on Dr. N. W. Morton, chief of personnel for DRB, and handed in his resignation.

In his statement, Dr. Chaput said that even if he still maintained the opinion that a federal government employee could support the idea of a separate state for Quebec "I must recognize that my public activities create an uneasiness in any environment."

"Moreover," he said, "as the next federal election is near, I want to avoid my personal case becoming the plaything of politics."

Dr. Chaput was suspended from DRB Nov. 20 for flouting a board order refusing him leave from his job to speak in Quebec City Nov. 17 on the aims of separatism.

At that time Dr. John Keyston, acting chairman of DRB, said Dr. Chaput was suspended for "wilful disobedience" of a board decision.

The outspoken advocate of a separate state for Quebec said in his statement that he resigned "firstly and before anything else to devote myself completely to the cause of independence for Quebec."

Dr. Chaput is president of Rassemblement pour l'Indépendance Nationale, one of the most active organizations supporting Quebec's secession from Confederation.

Dr. Chaput's statement said that during the last few months the organization he heads has expanded greatly. He said it must have a permanent structure, an essential condition for its success.

He said he will assume leadership of the organization on a fulltime basis.

His statement said that in resigning he does not yield to the pressures of DRB or the government. He was resigning "of my own accord, without rancor for my superiors."

ESQUIMALT PROJECT

New Shop Centre Ready by April

Esquimalt's new $2 million shopping centre on Esquimalt Road by the new municipal sports centre, announced last May 8, will get under way early in the new year.

Thomas Hurst of Vancouver, president of Capital Holdings Ltd. which is financing the project, announced over the weekend tenders for the centre would be called in January.

An April 1 completion date is predicted for the centre which will be called Esquimalt Plaza. It will contain 16 of 18 stores including a Safeway supermarket. A large parking lot blending in with the arena lot and an attractive canopy front, will be features of the centre.

GREENHOUSE SITE

Site of the new shopping plaza is the 85-year-old greenhouse of Brown Victoria Nurseries Ltd., believed to be the oldest continually operating greenhouse in the area. It was operated by W. H. Brown, who still lives in Victoria, for more than 50 years.

NEW PLANT

C. L. Read, president of the nursery firm said today the company had completed moving all its stock to temporary quarters in the Riddle greenhouses on Seymour Street but planned to build a $100,000 plant in Saanich probably next summer.

"We're still weighing the pros and cons of various Saanich properties before deciding where to put our proposed alumininum, modern greenhouses," Mr. Read said.

Capital Holdings, which purchased the greenhouse property through local real estate firm Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., has also constructed two other local centres — Shelbourne and Colwood — as well as other centres at Duncan and Port Alberni. Other similar ventures are planned by the company on the Island although details are not yet available.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt hailed the new centre as "a step forward and something good for Esquimalt and the whole of Greater Victoria."

Newspaper Critic Slain by Officials

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—The arrests of three men in the slaying of newspaper man Carlos Estrada Sastre, 36, were announced by Governor Fligio Esquivel of Baja California State Sunday night. One of the trio admitted the crime, the governor said.

Esquivel added: "I regret that those involved are and have been connected with my administration."

In custody are Nicolas Guerrero Mejia, a former state policeman, and Jorge Chirban and Mario Margana Partido, agents of the state security police. Margana Partido is a former lieutenant of state police.

The governor said that Guerrero Mejia had admitted fatally beating Sastre, a political columnist, in his Tijuana hotel room early last Monday, and had implicated the other two.

The three were arrested in Mexicali, the state capital.

The governor also ordered the removal from office of Tijuana's police chief, Armando Ruiz Molinar, pending investigation.

The columnist had been critical, in his writing for the newspaper Noticias, of the state administration.

Political Gamesmanship

IF ANY READER SUPPOSES that criticism of the Diefenbaker government's trade policies is confined to Mr. Pearson and a few partisan Canadian Liberals, let him examine the latest issue of the London Economist.

No one can say that this journal, probably the most influential in the English language, has any political axes to grind in Canada. It observes events here with almost Olympian detachment and the disillusioning experience of more than a century. From its remote and impartial position the Economist surveys the current Canadian scene in complete amazement. For it sees the Diefenbaker government openly split on the future of north Atlantic and Commonwealth trade, ever on the nature of the European Common Market.

Reading the latest cables, the Economist notes that Mr. Fleming was asked a few days ago in Ottawa, after his visit to London and Paris, why Canada should not join the Common Market. He replied that the Common Market was a purely European institution, not open to outsiders.

At the same time Mr. Hees was telling Toronto businessmen that his department was carrying out studies to determine whether Canada would gain or lose by joining the Common Market.

The dispute between the two ministers did not end there. Mr. Hees said that if Britain could not join the Common Market then "the next step should be a re-examination of the possibilities of materially increasing trade within the Commonwealth." The Economist observes, however, that "Mr. Fleming evidently had not seen his colleague's speech and showed that he did not think much of increased Commonwealth trade as an alternative to the Common Market."

These contradictions, the Economist assumes, must have been embarrassing to Mr. Fleming but "they signified less than the self-contradictions into which he was led by Mr. Diefenbaker's gamesmanship. Loyal reasserting his Prime Minister's assertion that Canada could 'rely' on Mr. Macmillan's promise to safeguard Commonwealth interests, he (Mr. Fleming) said it would be 'extremely difficult' for Britain to negotiate entry into the European Community without damaging Canadian trade."

What does all this ambiguity and equivocation mean? The Economist concludes that Mr. Fleming at least has acquired "a perfectly realistic view of the compromises which Britain must make, and of the unwelcome choice of interests which the Canadian government will have to face. But his colleagues, and even his Prime Minister, are so busy finding ingenious ways to conceal reality that even the Canadian public is utterly confused. Thus a respectable Canadian position is in danger of being undermined, and public discussion of alternatives, which might produce the best policy for Canada's long-term interests, is inhibited."

Quite true, but the Economist underestimates the political ingenuity of the government. It does not want a respectable position on these great issues. It does not want an intelligent discussion of alternatives. It wants to avoid a position which might antagonize its friends in the tariff-protected industries. It wants to avoid any public discussion which might force it to take a stand. Above all, it wants to postpone any decision of policy until it gets the next election out of the way. Hence Canada has no policy, only gamesmanship.

Put Up Or Shut Up

THE UNITED NATIONS FACES a sharpened crisis because too many member nations have not paid their share of its costs. Last year the budget of the U.N. was about $64 millions. Of this the United States provided almost one-third, the Soviet Union one-eighth, and Britain about one-twelfth. Other nations were graded down to as little as $25,000.

Most of the regular costs of the United Nations are paid promptly. The present difficulty arises from the refusal of certain member nations to pay their share of the special operations of the U.N.—the Gaza Strip police force and the Congo intervention in particular.

The Iron Curtain countries and most of the Arab nations have not contributed to the Gaza Strip costs. Russia and its satellites have refused to pay their assessments for expenses of the Congo force. There is a suggestion that the matter be taken to the International Court of Justice—a sorry resort for a world organization supposedly dedicated to keeping the peace.

Considering the cost of armaments, the comparatively small sum spent on the United Nations by member countries is a bargain price for peace. But the present situation has been aptly summed up by Mr. Adlai Stevenson: "If the members will not pay for the United Nations they will not have it." That's worth remembering.

Tapping a Wedge Into Canada

WHEN MR. DOUGLAS FISHER, the CCF federal member for Port Arthur, delivered his calculated insults to French-speaking Canadians in Quebec the other day, dismayed New Democratic Party figures began to estimate the number of votes his indiscretion had cost them.

The Fisher performance—suggesting that French Canadians had contributed little more to Canadian culture than Maurice Richard, the hockey player, and Lili St. Cyr, the strip-teaser—appeared to be a gesture of hari-kari by his party in the ancient province.

It is probably much more than that. Mr. Fisher could easily be identified not only as the symbol of the New Party. He could also be made to represent the sort of English-speaking Canadians against whom certain ultra-nationalist Quebec elements are rousing their province.

If he had tried, it is doubtful if Mr. Fisher could have made his irresponsible submission at a more delicate time. If ever there was occasion for patience and restraint to maintain unity between French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians, it is now when historic tensions are building up again, when destructive divisions could become wide chasms in the amalgam of the country.

About the best that can be said for Mr. Fisher's demonstration is that a smart-aleck with an inclination to rub liniment in national cuts has indulged his proclivities at the wrong time in the wrong place.

Loosening Grip on the Switch

BRITAIN'S ELECTRICAL Trades Union, expelled from the T.U.C. until it could put its house in order, has veered sharply away from communism, but cannot, at the moment, entirely shake the communist grip.

Recent elections have virtually reversed the composition of the union's executive. Where eight communists held office with three anti-communists prior to the last voting, the anti-communists now number nine, the communists only two.

The communists' ballot-rigging in the previous union election has evidently riled the union membership. The rank and file reaction, however, comes late and leaves something to be desired.

Before the new executive can take office the old one, dominated by communists, is attempting to push through, and may push through, changes in rules in their own favor.

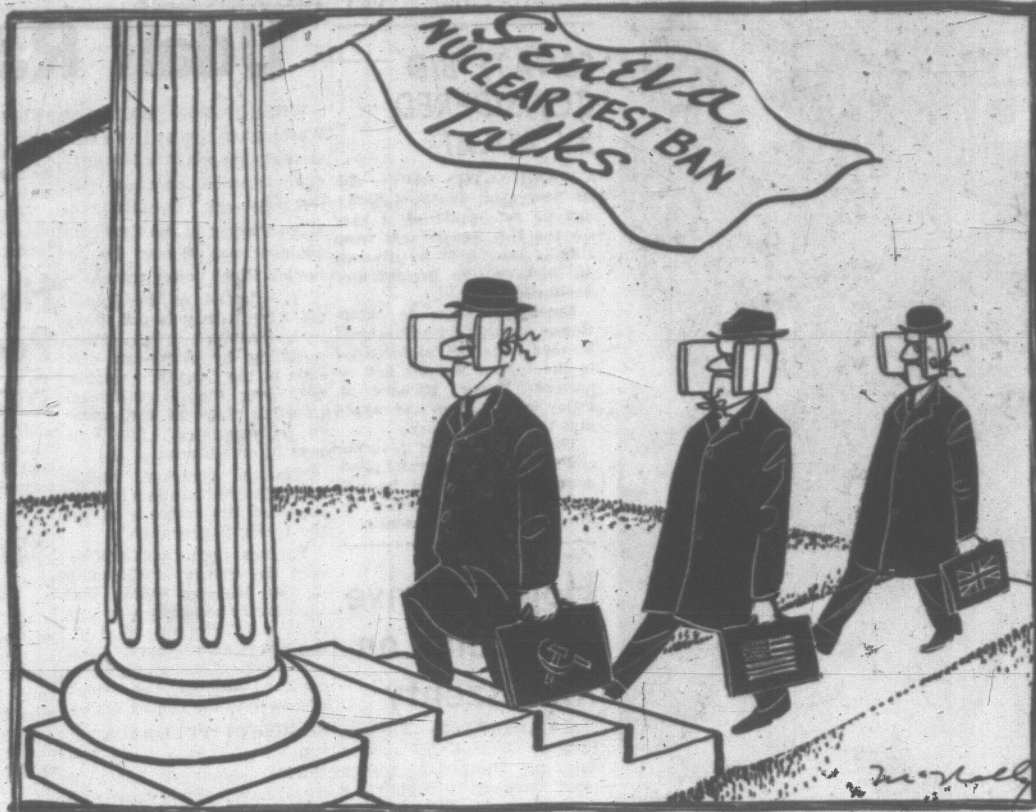

Moreover, while the Electrical

Trades Union indicated by its vote that it wanted a change in officers, only 25 per cent of the membership voted. The other 75 per cent, it appears, was too apathetic to bother.

These are interesting figures. When a quarter of the union members marked ballots, the forces against communism prevailed nine to two. In other words, a very small but highly organized group of communists had previously been able to swing the 250,000-member Electrical Trades Union to suit its party purposes—a group so small that it could be overcome when only one voting member in four throughout the union marked a ballot.

The moral here seems pretty obvious and is not restricted by any means to Britain's Electrical Trades Union. The course of any such organization can be controlled by a numerically weak but determined minority when the vast majority doesn't concern itself with union affairs.

HOW NOT TO MAKE A DECISION

By B. A. TOBIN

When Feathers Fly So Does Our Judgment

IT'S pathetic, when you come to think of it. The fuss, the waste, the noise, the whooping and yapping. And all for what? To demonstrate the triumph of one human ego over another human ego. This sort of thing is becoming a luxury that cannot be afforded in this nuclear day and age.

Community and national affairs should be brought out of the nursery environment, out of the statesmanship of the duck pond, and put on a quiet, sensible basis—on the basis, say of a group of college freshmen arranging to sell tickets for a dance.

I refer, of course, to the way in which such relatively simple, straight-forward public matters as damming a river, for instance, are handled by our elected representatives.

Have you ever been near a duck pond when a flock of residents is excited over a crust of bread? Such flapping and quacking and scurrying! Such needless noise and useless activity! Such a dust storm and feathery fury! How like human politicians.

Endless Road

Look at the Columbia River controversy, for instance. Recall the months and months in which you have been reading about this. The protracted negotiations with the United States. The detailed engineering inspections. The calculations of cost and output. Then the endless arguing and breast-beating.

The hurt feelings, the pretended putting, the indignant rejoinders, the tart replies, the ominous threats, the simulated anger, the righteous posturing.

What unmitigated bunk! What childish nonsense! Yet the people involved in all this idiocy are the top governmental brains of a nation and of a province.

What does all the controversy boil down to? A simple difference of opinion. What do rational people do when they have a difference of opinion which must be resolved? They talk it over, recognize the limits of appeasement on either side and strike a compromise.

Two Choices

We can only conclude, then, the men involved in the Columbia controversy (along with its satellite controversy, the Peace), are either 1, not rational, or 2, they don't yet want to resolve the conflict of opinion.

It's as simple as that, and either way they don't come out of the affair with very high marks.

Instead of the duck-pond form of procedure, why could not the whole question be put on the level of a committee of college freshmen?

Take half a dozen fairly serious-minded young fellows and confront them with the problem—and the almost unlimited funds available to carry out their negotiations.

Say three of them take one side of the controversy and three the other. What would they do?

First, you'd think, they would set out the exact limits of the matter: what was wanted, the facts and figures available, the costs and benefits, the technical details required. Where the experts differed they would ask them to settle the issues point by point, so that there was agreement on the bare facts.

With these facts they would work out a plan of development which would result in the greatest measure of benefit to all concerned.

They would not be trying to work off old grudges, they would not be trying to make their opponents look foolish to the public, they would not be working on some personal plan designed to achieve some quite different sort of victory a year or more hence, they would not be concerned with emerging with personal honors and adulation for being smarter than the opposing negotiators, they would not be jockeying and maneuvering for better positions in some other struggle, they would not be using the problem at hand as a weapon to force some other decision later on, they would not be eager to inflict personal embarrassment or hurt on other negotiators, they would not indulge in petty slights and disparagements, they would not seek to rouse the public to deride or dislike other negotiators, they would not be scoring points, they would not be dedicated to the preservation of fixed ideas when these were obviously short of requirements, they would not muddle the issue with red herrings and foggy rhetoric.

Dim Hope

They would, in short, be conscientiously trying to arrive at a good and speedy decision directed solely and entirely toward the welfare of the public. That would be their only objective, their only reason for existence while engaged in the public's business.

It's a lovely dream.

I don't advocate, of course, that we should put college freshmen into our public offices. But I do think it might be a good idea to keep the ducks out.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Outmoded Silenus

When Silenus talks about "the carefully nurtured tranquility which only fixed ideas can bring" he must be describing his own state of mind.

His mention of war is outmoded. We are in a situation where the word war has ceased to apply. Perhaps Silenus could think of a suitable word.

As to his arrogant "never ending war against fools"—what fools?—that ever-increasing number of dedicated people trying to avert the annihilating of the world?

What Mr. Bennett Forgot

What the Premier forgot in his full page advertisement of the BCER confiscation November 25, 1961.

That most of the private investors bought the shares for increment and a hedge against inflation. This with income tax allowance is now taken away from them, with no alternative for reinvestment giving an equal advantage due to the high price and low returns in other utilities.

That the market value of shares is no indication of the replacement value of the BCER assets.

That the takeover of the Montreal Heat, Light and Power by the Quebec Government is no criterion for citing a precedent at law for something done by a dictatorial government.

That the 25-year Government debentures replacing the 4 per cent preferred shares are beyond the life expectancy of most holders and are now quoted at 20 per cent discount.

Rejected Obligations

Our redoubtable premier recently took a whole page ad. to tell "Why I Expropriated the B.C. Electric."

There is one error in the ad. It should have read misappropriated, because he has not assumed the obligations solemnly given to old B.C.E. pensioners who proudly gave their best years to the company.

I wonder if the public knows that Bennett is now taking away the flat rate lighting agreement which all B.C.E. pensioners earned as part of their salaries and pension?

Surely it will not be good public relations to repudiate company agreements to old B.C.E. pensioners of which only a few are left.

Where People Don't Count

KARL RADOW, in German Features

FOR almost 90 years an old lady had lived in Berlin; her last years were definitely the most difficult ones, for she lived in the Communist-occupied part of Berlin.

Her children and even her grandchildren by now had their own families and homes; the old lady's husband had recently died, and the lonely old lady wanted to live with her children.

With great care and elaborateness, as she had learned in 87 years of citizenship, she wrote an application to the communist authorities and requested permission to go to West Berlin to live with one of her daughters. Of course, she had heard of the total isolation of East Berlin ever since 13th Aug., 1961, but she had never believed that any one could be so inhuman as to reject this last wish of an old lady.

She did not even believe that this could happen, when for many weeks

OTTAWA:

Political Grudges

RECENT events involving the Columbia River have provided an entrancing insight into the making of government policy. Justice Minister Fulton was confronted with the necessity of making a speech on the subject of the Columbia River to an audience at Prince George. He accepted an invitation from that city's Board of Trade because Premier Bennett had been there before him, and Mr. Fulton is not one to evade a challenge.

A week before the speech, he still hadn't made up his mind what to say. There had been some attempt made to call the cabinet committee on the Columbia into session, but so few ministers were interested that the meeting collapsed.

Mr. Fulton was on his own. For some months now, he has been trying to convince other cabinet ministers of the need to take over the Columbia as a federal project, with little success. External Affairs Minister Green wasn't too interested. He said Mr. Fulton should go out to B.C. more often to wage a speech-making war with Premier Bennett, try to stir up public opinion against Premier Bennett's proposal to sell all of Canada's downstream benefit power to the United States.

But the justice minister's speeches weren't doing the intended job. They were a little too scholarly, and too infrequent to have any impact on public opinion. Mr. Bennett was winning the propaganda war.

Original Plan

Things had reached the point where Mr. Fulton was going to go to Prince George, tell B.C. residents that Ottawa had merely acted as B.C.'s agent in drafting the Columbia treaty, and that Ottawa was now willing to let B.C. do whatever it wanted to do with the power to be derived from this project.

His task was to get out gracefully.

However, a number of events intervened. First, Premier Bennett went to Seattle to attend a Democratic Party dinner. While there, he shook the hand of President Kennedy, and exchanged a few pleasantries. He also talked to other U.S. officials, obviously with the intent of drumming up support for his stand.

Stories out of Washington and Seattle indicated he had some success. One said President Kennedy had the State Department at work deciding whether he should talk to Prime Minister Diefenbaker on the subject.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall applied some pressure with a few poorly chosen remarks. Mr. Bennett, his lands and forests minister, Ray Williston, and other B.C. spokesmen contributed to the general uproar.

The argument was that Ottawa should relent, and allow B.C. to sell the downstream benefit power.

If the Bennett propaganda machine had been silent for a few more days, he would have had his fondest wish. But the whole campaign put Mr. Fulton in a politically untenable position. He was not going to go out to B.C. with his tail between his legs, admit he had been all wrong, and give in. No thinking politician would.

Outside Interference

So Mr. Fulton seized his opportunity for a counter-attack. He called in the U.S. ambassador to complain about Mr. Udall's statements, and left no doubt as to his outrage over this interference in Canada's personal quarrel.

Then he prepared his speech, in which he accused Bennett of working with the Yankees, to sell B.C.'s resources down the river, the Bennett-Udall squeeze play, the sell-out. No wonder Mr. Udall was bewildered, caught up as he was in a Canadian political battle of which he appeared quite uninformed.

Now the lines are so hardened that compromise appears out of the question. For Premier Bennett, no less than Mr. Fulton, has no intention of backing down, of admitting defeat.

If Mr. Fulton was serious when he said Canada's honor is at stake, and when he said the federal government intends honoring its commitments under the still-to-be-ratified Columbia treaty, Ottawa now has no recourse but to take over the Columbia as a 'federal project.'

That question hasn't been decided or even discussed by the cabinet, but from here it appears to be the only solution to what has become a crude political grudge match.

Aneurysms

People write to say they have been found to have an aneurysm in one of their arteries. The person wants to know why it came, and should he let a surgeon operate. An aneurysm is a blow-out in an artery. Perhaps because an ulcer formed in the wall of the artery and weakened it, the blow-out came. If this swelling should press on a bone or on some nerves, it could cause much pain. In the old days, before surgeons learned how to operate on arteries, and to insert a piece of tubing to replace the diseased section, aneurysms often blew out, and then the person died suddenly.

Alvarez

Nowadays, with the free X-ray examinations of the lungs, a number of persons who thought they were healthy, are found to have an aneurysm of the aorta, or big artery that comes out of the heart. When such a discovery is made, the person will do well to go quickly to a large medical institution where he can find a surgeon who is expert in operating in the chest and who has the equipment and the skill and experience that is needed in taking out a section of a big artery, and inserting a short length of tubing to take its place.

Many people ask, "But isn't the operation dangerous?" Yes, it is; but when a man is faced with death from an aneurysm, he cannot say he is afraid of the operation; there is only one thing he can do and that is to find a very able surgeon and then let him go to work.

Occasionally I see a worrisome man of 50 who is much upset because, during a routine examination, the electrocardiogram showed a "buckle branch block." The fact that the man was quite unconscious of anything wrong with his heart should have shown him that the abnormality is not worth worrying about. His heart is still pumping away normally, and that is what counts.

The "buckle" in the heart is a tract of specialized muscle which carries the heart beat from the base of the heart down to its apex. When, in rare cases, this bundle is completely blocked by the plugging-up of an artery in the heart, the pulse rate drops to 40 per minute or less, and the patient is likely to have serious annoyance, perhaps with brief spells of unconsciousness due to an occasional failure of enough blood to get to the brain.

But when only one of the branches of the bundle is blocked, there rarely is any trouble. Practically all of the patients I have ever seen with a branch block had no consciousness of anything wrong, and I told them not to worry. There is no treatment because the little abnormality is due to a scar in the heart muscle—a scar that cannot be removed.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

'Get Out and Live' Movement

LONDON — Bernard Stanbury, 32-year-old owner of a London photoprinting business, has decided the time has come to get away from the bomb.

The other day he put a lengthy (45-dollar) ad in The Times saying he's convinced government policies are more likely than not to lead to the eradication of Britain, he doesn't think there's time to wait for a new government and doesn't wish to hang around to find out whether or not his appraisal of the situation is correct.

He would like to hear from "families and individuals who have a strong desire to live, who are alive enough to do something about it and sufficiently adventurous and energetic to help establish a new, co-operative, self-supporting community on an island comparatively safe from nuclear hazards."

In a matter of a few days he had received 420 replies.

When I talked to him he said his original intention had been to hold a meeting of the applicants but in view of the large number that have already written in, from widely spread-out parts of the country, he is instead sending them all a questionnaire.

From the answers, he will thin them down to something more akin to what he had in mind for this modern Mayflower project—100 adults and their families. Then a meeting will be held and they'll get down to brass tacks.

Already Stanbury has worked out many of the details.

The Royal Geographical Society has been contacted for help in finding the right sort of island. Since the community is to be self-supporting rather than self-sufficient, an island is required that can provide their livelihood from the export of pineapples or coconuts or whatever else can be produced there.

Lack of money will not be a bar against anyone thought suitable as a migrant. Others better off will help to pay his way.

The community will borrow from modern society its good things, rejecting the bad. For instance, marriage and the family unit will be retained. But there will be no money in use on the island, everything being on a completely co-operative basis, to avoid the evils of greed and jealousy.

Stanbury is absolutely sincere in this, and perfectly willing to throw up his lucrative business and considerable property holdings here.

"I'm as sincere," he said, "as that 3 per cent of the population trying to get something achieved by marching against the bomb and engaging in sit-down demonstrations."

"But," I said, "isn't your project a matter of deserting the sinking ship?"

"No. A better way of putting it would be that we're getting off the ship because we're not allowed to throw overboard the keg of gunpowder that's going to blow the whole thing up."

Here's a Novel Christmas Gift

If your Christmas gift list includes a new gardener to this area or a young couple just starting their first garden, here is a suggestion which will help them to get more pleasure from their hobby—a gift membership in the Victoria Horticultural Society.

There are no difficulties in joining, but the advantages are many. A meeting with a featured speaker is held on the first Tuesday of each month in the City Hall, opening with a question and answer period.

This is designed to take care of current problems, the identification of members' plants, and the showing of interesting plant material which may be new to some.

The society's publication, "Garden Notes" is mailed monthly to members, and its four large pages are packed with topical information on local gardening plus a condensation of the previous month's featured talk. This is the only monthly publication written by, and published for, gardeners in this part of Vancouver Island. It has been published by the society for over 30 years.

Fruit tree and rose-pruning demonstrations are other activities. These take place in gardens offered for the purpose by members, and in the Beacon Hill and Windsor Park rose gardens. There is no book quite so effective as a first-hand demonstration.

The summer and fall flower shows were successfully expanded into horticultural exhibitions last year at the Victoria Curling Rink.

TROPHIES, PRIZES

At these shows members, and non-members, display the results of their gardening efforts in competition for trophies and cash prizes.

Special attention is given during the year to the problems of beginners when they make known their difficulties.

With a new year approaching, what could be more thoughtful and lasting than the gift of a year's membership in this lively society?

The annual subscription for one person is $2; two persons at the same address may join for $3. Requests for gift memberships should be sent now to the secretary, 1840 Fernside Road, Victoria, and the January issue of Garden Notes will see your recipient on the way to better and more enjoyable gardening.

'Dress Shirt Fascism' In Canada—Douglas

VANCOUVER (CP)—There are signs that Canada is developing a type of fascism—not the brown-shirt European variety, but a "dress shirt" type—T. C. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said Saturday night.

"Canada is a politically free nation developing into an economic dictatorship," the former Saskatchewan premier told 1,500 persons at a Vancouver Institute lecture at University of B.C.

Mr. Douglas referred to a "corporate elite" which he said exercises political power far out of proportion to its numbers through control of giant corporations responsible for three-fifths of Canada's industrial output.

"Inevitably, those who have economic control must seek political control in order to protect their interests," he said.

He said this economic dictatorship means that the average man has no real freedom because "political freedom is a mockery without economic freedom."

Kennedy Charge 'Cock and Bull'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia says President Kennedy's suggestion that the autobahn linking Berlin and West Germany be placed under international control smacks of a "big stick" policy.

It told him to forget the idea because it is "doomed to failure."

And the Kremlin organ chided the president for what it called a "cock and bull" charge that the Soviet Union is out to convert the world to communism.

Commenting on the interview Kennedy gave Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, the paper said the president put forward "quite a few reasonable ideas" but these were not among them.

Izvestia upheld the "sacred right" of the East German regime to regulate traffic.

GOLDEN GATE LEAPER LANDS IN MUD, LIVES

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two hundred and 15 persons have jumped off San Francisco's Golden Gate bridge to end their lives—but a former sailor leaped from the span Sunday and survived.

But doctors said Francis P. Kennedy of Oakland, Calif., was in critical condition today with less than a 50-50 chance to live.

Kennedy, 20, plunged nearly 200 feet and landed in rain-softened mud.

Investors Wooded in U.S. By Kiernan

SPOKANE, Wash., (CP) — Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan of British Columbia told United States investors Saturday they need not fear that their assets will be expropriated if they invest in the province.

"We are not socialists," he told delegates to the Northwest Mining Association convention here in a plea for increased U.S. investment in B.C.'s mining industry. "We aren't going to invite you in and then throw you out."

Mr. Kiernan referred to criticism of his government's recent action in expropriating the B.C. Electric company and assets of Peace River Power Development Company.

He also mentioned his government's purchase last week of assets of the U.S.-controlled Black Ball Ferries.

"We have not departed from our basic principles of free enterprise," the minister said. "In the state of Washington you have owned your ferry system for many years and no one calls you socialist."

Inviting U.S. mining interests to help develop B.C. mineral resources, Mr. Kiernan said the province at present is enjoying a mining boom largely because Japanese industries are looking to B.C. to supply Japan's need for raw materials.

"We want to keep Japan in the Free World camp," he said.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassim warned Britain Sunday night to give up its protection of Kuwait or he would start a Mideast war and "force her out."

DEDICATED MARXIST-LENINIST

Castro Follows 'Red Road'

HAVANA (AP) — Premier Fidel Castro said Saturday he was forming a United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution, a monolithic organization like the Soviet Communist party with restricted membership.

The premier made this announcement in a five-hour television speech in which he also acknowledged that he was a Marxist-Leninist and said that he was taking Cuba down the path to Communism. He maintained that the world, too, "is on the road toward Communism."

Castro said only true revolutionaries would be selected for membership.

Today the 21-country Organization of American states, prodded by Peru and Colombia, is to consider calling a foreign ministers' conference to study the Cuban Communist threat to American republics.

Never before had Castro so frankly placed his island country in the Communist camp, nor given his own political views so strongly on Marxism.

MEMBERS VARIED

Members will be drawn from the workers, students, intellectuals, peasants and even the little bourgeoisie, Castro said. "I am a Marxist-Leninist and will be one until the day I die," Castro said in the speech he began about midnight.

The speech marked the fifth anniversary of his landing in Cuba to begin his revolt.

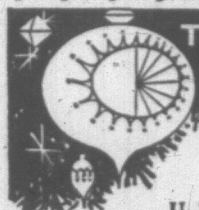

Six months after he seized power from Fulgencio Batista Jan. 1, 1959, Castro said "ours is not a Communist revolution."

CITES PROPAGANDA

Castro said in Saturday's speech that during his years as a student at Havana University he was influenced "by the propaganda of the reactionaries and imperialists about communism."

Castro did not give the specific date on his switch to Marxism but indicated his political philosophy in that direction began shortly before he launched his Sierra Maestra campaign to overthrow the Batista regime in 1956.

Rejecting neutralism, Castro said "there is no half-way between socialism and imperialism."

Blues' Line Good For '61 Grey Cup

Hickman Loss Put Pressure On Faloney

By JACKIE PARKER (Edmonton Quarterback)

TORONTO — The 1961 Grey Cup classic is history and I don't think anybody, even those good people of the steel city, will seriously argue that Winnipeg Blue Bombers are not Canada's greatest team.

For they came from behind like champions Saturday to defeat Hamilton Tiger-Cats in one of the toughest, and best, games I've seen in my eight years of Canadian ball.

The line play was almost brutal at times and in many instances the "big boys" in blue simply "out-toughed" the Tiger-Cats. Men like Steve Patrick, Herb Gray and Roger Savoie were tremendous and hitting as hard as ever.

In fact, I'd say Gray and Savoie had probably their finest games of the season and the veteran Patrick was his usual mean, miserable self when it came to dealing with Hamilton ball-carriers.

OFFENCE RUSTY

If there was a disappointment, it had to be Winnipeg's offence—which seemed a little rusty from the layoff and the fact they haven't had to go all out for the past month.

The defence, however, more than made up for it.

I was particularly pleased with the way Jack Delveaux came through as a pinch-hit punter. I was talking to him before the game and he was admittedly worried, afraid he couldn't do a big-league job like Charlie Shepard.

Delveaux is the kind of boy who likes nothing better than running around knocking down people. A great competitor and, now, a great punter.

Still another boy who came up big in this game was Ron Latourelle, who went both ways and turned in a splendid all-around job. Typical of Blue Bombers' spirit and the kind of depth coach Bud Grant has.

QUITE A DUEL

An interesting private duel was the Frank Rigney-John Barrow (linebacker-of-the-year candidates)—go-around. Both made key plays and both took their lumps. I'd have to say it was a stand-off, but I'd still love to have Rigney blocking downfield for me.

Then how can we forget Gerry James, who made a couple of key catches and key runs aside from his kicking... and big touchdowns.

Hamilton soon discovered they couldn't run against Winnipeg, but I feel that had full-back Larry Hickman not been injured early, it could have been a different story.

As it was Hamilton had to rely on Bernie Faloney's passing and the Winnipeg defenders were watching him like a hawk. Bernie never really got a chance to show to best advantage but still was dangerous until the final gun.

Blue Bombers never got a break all day, and rode home on the strength of their formidable defensive unit.

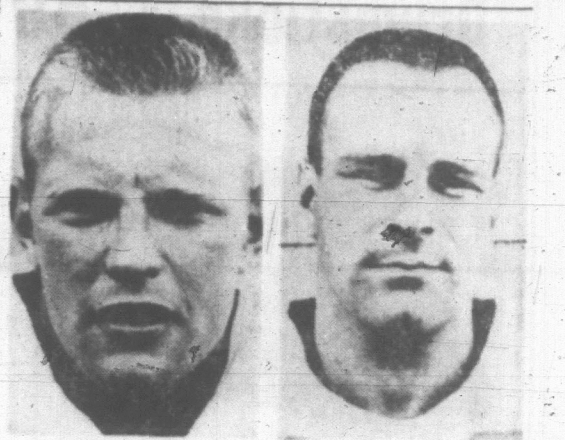

They are the best, and showed it when Tiger-Cats had them under the gun.

Which, after all, is what champions are supposed to do.

HAS MANITOBA MONOPOLY?

16,000 Hail 'Finest Ever'

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sunday was a proud and memorable day for the football-minded citizens of Winnipeg.

The triumphant return of the Grey Cup champion Blue Bombers had all the ingredients for a festive mood, but civic planners had been thinking even further ahead.

When the Bombers were piped into the arena for their homecoming reception, they were greeted by three other football champions: St. James' Rods earlier won the Canadian junior title; Fort Garry Lions were the Dominion juvenile champions, and St. Vital Bulldogs were the Western Canada intermediate champions, having lost the Dominion title by one point.

Bombers, who defeated Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a thrilling, overtime Grey Cup game in Toronto Saturday, had to win another close decision coming home—this time over the weather.

Premier Duff Roblin, who led a long parade of dignitaries who welcomed the Bombers home, called the team "one of the greatest the country has ever seen."

"No matter how many Grey Cups you win, you just can't get used to something like this," said Grant.

WHIPPED FOG, TOO

Their Trans-Canada Airlines Vanguard landed at Winnipeg International Airport on schedule at 3:26 p.m. (CST), but with little time to spare before a thick blanket of fog settled and disrupted later traffic.

An estimated 10,000 fans lined the parade route which led to the arena and the official homecoming.

Another 6,000 people in the arena roared their appreciation as the heroes walked into the building. The fans had warmed up by singing the most popular song in Winnipeg—Hang Down Your Head.

"I've heard a lot of talk about changing the game to four downs and using only 11 men. If they can improve on Saturday's Grey Cup game, they're welcome to try. I don't think they can."

General manager, termed them the greatest Tiger-Cat team ever. "They gave more than their bodies were capable of giving."

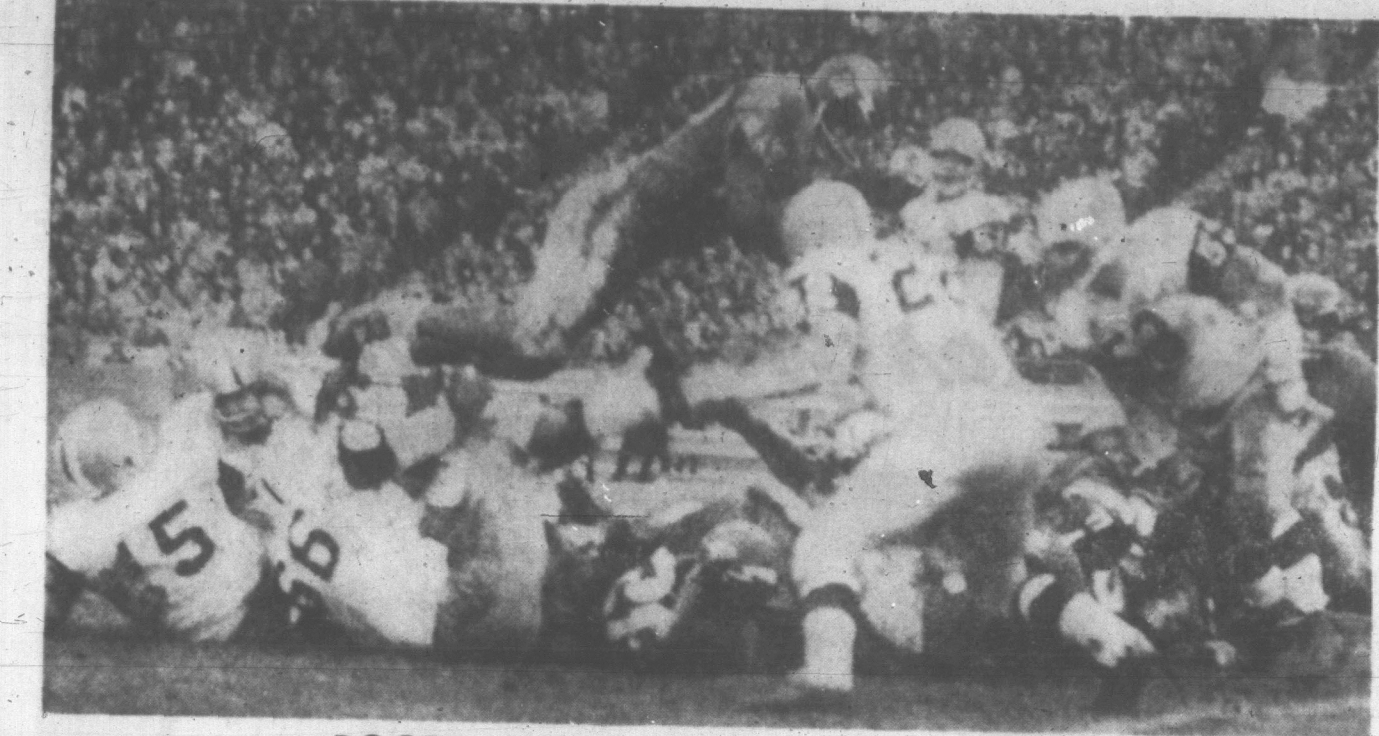

Quarterback Bernie Faloney spoke for the players, who were given cufflinks bearing the City of Hamilton crest.

"You don't know what it means to see you all here this evening," said Faloney. "We were kind of sad coming over in the bus but we were very happy when we came out of the lobby and saw you here."

The players later went to a reception and buffet supper during which they were told by Mayor Lloyd Jackson:

"You've played in something that is so essentially Canadian, you can't duplicate it anywhere."

Halfback Roger Hagberg attempts to dive over Hamilton goal-line for touchdown in fourth quarter of Grey Cup game but his spirited try just fell short. However, Gerry James went over on

GREY CUP YARDAGE LEADER

Unheralded Latourelle 'Peg Star

TORONTO (CP) — Ron Latourelle, the 27-year-old Winnipeg high school teacher who does double duty in the Blue Bombers' offensive and defensive backfield, led all players in yardage picked up in Saturday's 1961 Grey Cup final.

The versatile veteran handled the ball 15 times and advanced it a total of 180 yards, 119 of them running back kicks and 66 on passes.

Only two other ball-carriers marched the length of the field during Winnipeg's 21-14 conquest of Hamilton Tiger-Cats and both were on the losing side.

Paul Dekker, the Ticats' six-foot-five offensive end, covered 114 yards in three pass plays, one of them a 90-yard touchdown effort in the first quarter that stood up as the longest gain of the day. His running mate, Hal Patterson, caught seven passes for 110 yards.

Leo Lewis, the speedy Bomber halfback from Des Moines, Iowa, picked up 92 yards on 15 ground plays, easily the best rushing performance of the game, to rank fourth overall, followed by Ernie Pitts, Winnipeg's pass-catching end, at 83.

Reflecting Winnipeg's dominance on the ground, the next three places were taken by fullbacks Roger Hagberg, 77, and Gerry James, 68, and running back expert Henry Janzen, 63.

James, 26-year-old one-time forward with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, was the game's leading scorer with 14 points from a touchdown, two field goals and two converts.

The Ticats netted only 25 yards on the ground. Of the total, 20 were in three plays by fullback Larry Hickman, carried off with an ankle injury in the first quarter. Only three of Hamilton's 18 first downs were on running plays.

By contrast, Winnipeg made 16 of its 25 first downs on the ground, picking up 268 yards rushing. Lewis made the long individual gain, a 33-yard breakaway in the fourth quarter.

In the air, the Ticats threw offense and got the most mileage. Quarterback Bernie Faloney completed 25 passes in 41 tries for 328 yards. His opposite numbers, Kenny Ploen and Hal Ledyard of Winnipeg, played for a modest 200 yards, completing 12 of 22 attempts.

Dekker's 90-yard scamper for the game's first touchdown was only three yards short of the longest gain in Grey Cup history, achieved by Red O'Quinn of Montreal Alouettes in 1954, also on a pass.

Jack Delveaux, substituting for the injured Charlie Shepard, decisively outplayed Hamilton's Cam Fraser and Faloney, averaging 44 yards to a combined 39 for the Ticat kickers. His longest effort travelled 56 yards while Hamilton's best, a quick kick by Faloney, went 47. Winnipeg's defence piled up 15 Hamilton plays at or behind the line of scrimmage for a total loss of 71 yards. The Hamilton defenders broke up 12 Bomber plays for a loss of 51, but evened the score by recovering two Winnipeg fumbles and intercepting one of Ledyard's passes.

Faloney was the chief sufferer, losing a total of 63 yards on seven plays that went wrong, most of them when he was downed before he could get a pass away. Ploen ate the ball for a total loss of 27 yards on four plays, and Ledyard was smeared twice for a total of eight.

CARBO PLASTERED WITH 25 YEARS AND $10,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frankie Carbo, once the underworld boss of a widespread boxing empire, was sentenced to 25 years in prison and received a $10,000 fine Saturday in federal court.

Four other men convicted with Carbo last May 30 of conspiracy and extortion, also received stiff sentences.

Among these were Frank "Blinky" Palermo, Philadelphia fight manager sentenced to 15 years in prison and fined $10,000.

The men were accused of trying to seize control of former welterweight champion Don Jordan.

Packers' Jesse Pulls Big Heist

Call it a "steal," a "heist" or "the great gridiron robbery," but Green Bay Packers are western division champs of the National Football League, and New York Giants now must battle it out with Philadelphia and Cleveland for a shot at the playoff swing.

Green Bay won the western title for the second straight year Sunday by beating the Cardinals, 20-17, in a savagely fought game which conceivably might be re-enacted in the NFL's championship playoff a few weeks from now.

The Giants' defeat gave Philadelphia Eagles the opportunity to move into a first-place tie in the eastern division. The Eagles beat Pittsburgh Steelers, 35-24. Cleveland Browns, 38-17, conquerors of the Dallas Cowboys, now are only one game behind the leaders.

TAYLOR SUPERB

The howling crowd of 47,012 at Milwaukee cheered a host of heroes. There was fullback Jim Taylor, who gained 186 rushing yards. There was quarterback Bart Starr, who directed the Packers' attack well. And there were the Green Bay linemen, who proved every bit the equal of their ballyhooed Giant opponents.

But the Packers who probably made the most important haul of the day was Jesse Whittenton, a light-fingered, 195-pound defensive back. This was the picture:

The Giants led 17-13 early in the final period and were running the ball out from deep in their own territory. Full-back Alex Webster cut back over tackle at the seven and broke into the clear. Whittenton nailed him at the New York 30, but not satisfied merely—with bringing him down, he stole the ball from Webster's grasp.

Four plays later, including a penalty for roughing the passer, Taylor barged over from the three to put Green Bay ahead.

In other Sunday games, Minnesota Vikings upset Los Angeles Rams, 42-21; Detroit Lions edged Chicago Bears, 16-15; Baltimore Colts defeated San Francisco 49ers, 20-17, and St. Louis Cardinals rallied to beat Washington Redskins, 38-24, as Sam Etcheverry passed for two touchdowns.

Houston Oilers sent San Diego Chargers down to their first defeat in 12 American Football League games this season, 33-13; Boston Patriots squeezed past Denver Broncos, 28-24; New York Titans drubbed Dallas Texans, 28-7, and Buffalo Bills beat Oakland Raiders, 26-21.

Vikings Outclassed In Exhibition Game

ABERDEEN (AP) — Dave Mahlman, Washington Junior College Conference scoring champion last season, led Grays Harbor Chokers to an 83-39 non-conference basketball victory Saturday night over Victoria College Vikings.

Mahlman scored 24 points while George Brice led Victoria with 14.

Phils Get Torre

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies acquired first baseman Frank Torre from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League Saturday. It was a straight cash deal.

Painter's Chip Shot Provides Golf Upset

A short chip shot that sent the ball rattling into the cup for a birdie three on the third playoff hole at Colwood provided the big noise in local golf circles Sunday.

It gave a team of George Vale challengers an upset victory over Victoria Golf Club's Laurie Carroll and Ron MacLeod in the open button matches.

The accurate wedge shot was made by Fred Painter and it gave the George Vale greenskeeper and partner Watson (Slim) Finley victory on the 21st hole.

Painter and Finley, who combined extremely well, for an 18-hole best-ball of about 68, were two up after 13 holes.

But a birdie on the 14th and a par on the 16th by the defending button-holders sent the match into extra holes.

John Hadfield and Pete Gillan of Uplands retained the junior buttons, defeating George Vale's Noel Pumfrey and John McCormick, 4 and 3.

Palmer Trails By Four Shots

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gay Brewer Jr. posted his fourth straight sub-par round Sunday to win $2,800 first-place money in the West Palm Beach Open Golf tournament with a 14-under-par total of 274.

Arnold Palmer took second place in the tournament with a four-under-par 68 for the final round to finish at 278—four strokes behind Brewer. Palmer won $1,900.

Johnny Potts and Bert Weaver finished in a tie for third at 279, each winning $1,300. John Barnum was fifth, winning $1,100 with a 280 total.

COLLECTS ON 75 POOL TICKETS

'Lucky' Does It Again

ROME (AP) — Italy's "Mister Lucky", a chemical worker with a formula for playing lotteries, had 75 more winning tickets during the weekend to put his weekend prize money at 4,100,000 lire ($6,560).

Altogether Pier Giovanni Vallauri, 32, of Turin, has won 44,922,000 lire ($71,874) on 93 winning lottery tickets this year.

His latest scores came Sunday in "Totocalcio"—the Sunday soccer pool operated by the Italian Olympic Committee. Pier guessed the correct outcome of 12 of the day's 13 major league soccer games on 12 tickets he entered. Each ticket paid 21,900 ($35).

That gave him 75 winning tickets, 62 of them coming in "Enalotto"—a state-operated numbers game played every Saturday in Milan. He also picked a winning ticket in "Lotto", another state-run lottery based on a more simplified system.

Before Saturday, Vallauri had won 18 times on soccer pool and national lottery tickets.

LEESTI SPARKLES

Whites Preserve Unbeaten Record

Oak Bay Reds did their best to upset the fancy apperant being pushed around their "brothers" in the Victoria Rugby Union.

Reds gave Whites, the unbeaten first division leaders, their most stern test of the season Saturday. A well-executed try by Bob Hutchison finally gave Whites their 30 victory.

Martin Leesti scored a try and kicked two field goals and a convert for an 11-point display that sparked Royal Roads' 17-0 victory over Naval Tech. Jeff Loube and Manley Sarnowsky also scored tries for the winners.

Los Angeles Blades, cellar-dwellers in the Western Hockey League's Southern Division, sprang to life Sunday night to thrash San Francisco Seals 9-2 for their seventh win in 22 starts.

The Seals, ranking third in the division, didn't score until the final period. Blades scored five goals in the second and four in the third.

In other league contests, Portland Buckaroos dropped Vancouver Canucks 3-0 and Seattle Totems beat Spokane Comets 2-1.

No games are scheduled tonight. Canucks meet Seals and Comets face Edmonton Flyers Tuesday night.

Blade centre-Gerry Goyer scored early in the second period before 3,150 Los Angeles fans to break a scoreless tie. Goyer added another in the third frame.

RAIRD LEADS TOTEMS

Don McLeod and Jim Powers each scored two for Blades. Wally Hergesheimer, Danny Belisle and Billy O'Ree completed the scoring.

Jack Martin and Gord Redahl scored for Seals. Jim Baird pushed Totems, who rank second in the Northern Division, to their win before 2,633 Comet fans.

Del Topoll scored the first goal early in the third frame to give Comets a lead. Don Chupka tied it for Seattle and Guyle Fielder assisted Baird on the winner.

The assist gives Fielder the 900th point of his professional hockey career.

GAMBLE STOPS 24

The Bucks, leaders of the Northern Division, made it seven straight with their win before 7,123 hometown fans.

Hall Blows Hot; Sailors Score Fourth Straight

A squad of Sailors moving under a full head of steam and a hot George Hall, provided some of the warmth in Vancouver Island Amateur Hockey League action at Memorial Arena Saturday night.

Their hot spells, as it turned out, kept Victoria's two entries sharing second place in the four-team league with identical records.

Next game: Wednesday—Port Alberni at Nanaimo.

Navy, showing the form that won the city commercial title in the last three years, made it four straight by rapping league-leading Nanaimo, 6-1.

Independent Athletic Association, with Hall sparking in goal, kept in step by edging Port Alberni, 5-3.

SPOTTED FIRST GOAL

Danny Zolob scored Nanaimo's goal after only 38 seconds of play, but it was an all-Navy show after that. They won it hands down on counters by Ron Cook (2), Joe Tanner, Lou

Mike Beshara. Hall was the culprit who kept Port Alberni from chalking up its initial victory. He blocked 45 shots, including 31 in the final two periods as IAA had to come from behind a 3-1, first period deficit.

John Makowski, with a pair, Ed Varga, Orv Coulter and Mo Cunningham clicked for IAA goals, while Bert Yesowick, with two, and Jim Middleton scored Port Alberni's.

If you'd like to raise your child to be the head of the culture department of a newspaper, you could do worse than follow the example set by Audrey Johnson, who keeps a perceptive eye on music, art and drama for Times readers.

Audrey started studying music at the age of five, majoring in piano but devoting time and talent to vocal and violin studies, and burning the midnight oil on theory and history of music.

She is a diploma graduate of the Royal Schools of Music, meaning she knows of which she hears, and can use the letters L.R.S.M. after her name.

Pursuing an avocation which was to become her vocation, she studied art for three years, drama at UBC, at Banff and University of Washington.

She must have learned something, because for the past 10 years she has been adjudicator of drama for British Columbia. A play she directed in 1950 won the regional award of the Dominion Drama Festival, and her production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Christ Church Cathedral in 1959 was warmly received by capacity audiences.

Audrey has also taught Victoria School Board drama classes, directed plays and opera, published poetry, written successful CBC radio plays, sold articles to various magazines.

She's happiest writing for The Times and directing stage productions because—in her words—"In either activity every form of artistic expression in which I have indulged finds its culmination."

Times readers are happy Audrey Johnson finds happiness in bringing honest, well-founded appraisal of the arts to these pages.

Bombers Raid Douk Halls

NELSON — Violence flared in the British Columbia Kootenay district Sunday with the burning of an Orthodox Doukhobor community hall and arson attempts at two other halls. The hall at Glade, 15 miles southwest of here, was destroyed by fire which RCMP believe was started by incendiary bombs.

Kerosene-filled beer bottles with cloth wicks were found inside community halls at Koorbatoff and Nakoin villages, about half a mile from Glade. The walls on these halls were badly scorched but otherwise undamaged.

RCMP said they believed the fires at both places originated in the same way. No one was injured.

In Nelson Saturday, a young Krestova Freedomite Doukhobor, Fred Davy, was cited for contempt of court when he refused to take the witness stand in the preliminary hearing of William G. Bojey, charged with a terrorist offence last February.

Davidoff was ordered jailed by Magistrate William Evans until he purges his contempt. Davidoff told the magistrate: "I believe in the court of God and I said before I shall not witness in any other court."

Bojey is the father of a 23-year-old youth who was blinded when a bomb he was making exploded in his face.

Seven Freedomites were ordered to stand trial for alleged terrorist activities after three separate preliminary hearings here.

Accused of Murder

KAMLOOPS — John Kennedy Haywood, 38, was remanded Saturday to Dec. 12 charged with the non-capital murder of his wife, Margaret Lorraine Haywood, mother of six.

Mrs. Haywood, 36, died of .303-calibre rifle shot wounds in the stomach early Friday.

Their children, aged from two to 15, are being cared for by relatives.

36th Traffic Death

VANCOUVER — Vancouver recorded its 36th traffic fatality of the year Sunday with the death of Minnie Kelly, 72.

Mrs. Kelly died in hospital from injuries she suffered when she was hit by a car Friday night.

Train Delayed

VANCOUVER — The CPR's trans-continental Canadian arrived in Vancouver 14 hours late Sunday night after its lead unit was derailed in a tunnel near North Bend, 120 miles north of here.

Ninety-seven passengers were stranded in the Fraser Canyon for several hours after the unit crashed into a rockpile in the 446-foot long tunnel and ripped out about 50 feet of track.

The derailed unit remained in an upright position. No one was injured in the mishap.

Heavy Snows

PRINCE GEORGE — Snowplows were unable to keep up with the snow here Saturday as another three inches fell, bringing the total to 10 inches in two days.

Swim to Safety

VANCOUVER — Two Vancouver youths swam a quarter mile to safety Sunday after their 24-foot cabin cruiser exploded and sank in nearby Howe Sound.

Mike Blair, 20, and his brother Rick, 16, both wore life jackets when they jumped into the water after gasoline spilled on the deck was ignited by a cigarette blown out of an ash tray by the wind.

REEVE FOR OAK BAY

There are hundreds of ways you can enjoy being out of doors this winter. Racing ice yachts is one. Or a simple weekend drive will stimulate body and soul.

WHY HIBERNATE?

Shell offers 10 cold weather driving tips to help you enjoy your car more this winter.

When it's crisp blue and white on the weekend, blow away your winter cobwebs — take to the highways and byways. The exercise will do your car a power of good, too.

Before you go, read the 10 tips below. Chances are you'll find a few fresh tricks of the trade to help your car start certainly, perform smoothly.

REMEMBER, the 10 tips below will help you handle your car this winter. They assume it is already in good shape. If your car is out of condition, odds are it will let you down before winter's out. Have your Shell dealer check it over for you.

1. How to start your car in zero weather

When your engine is turning willingly, but still won't fire—don't pump the gas pedal. You'll only flood the combustion chamber with raw gasoline. Instead, press the pedal to the floor, and hold it there while the engine turns over. This way, extra air will be added to the mixture—which was probably over-rich.

Note: in winter, Super Shell is primed with extra butane, an ingredient eager to vaporize, even on the coldest night. So eager that it would boil in your refrigerator, if you could remove it from Super Shell's formula. The extra butane helps winter blend Super Shell start your engine in a hurry.

2. How to get moving on ice

A spinning wheel only polishes ice—never helps you take off. What to do. First, make sure your front wheels point straight ahead. This cuts resistance. Then press on the gas pedal tenderly. Use second gear, or the drive range of an automatic shift. A bag of sand in the trunk helps traction by adding weight to the rear wheels. For double duty, use the sand under the tires.

3. Why you should NOT idle your engine to warm it up

Even in the coldest weather, wait only until the engine is running smoothly before pulling away. Engineers have discovered that wear can be increased by letting your car chug away in the driveway. At the very least it wastes your gas dollars. Help your engine warm up quickly by driving away promptly, but at a moderate speed. Never make it work hard until it's warm.

Note: Another cold-beating ingredient in Super Shell is mixed pentanes. Like kindling in a log fire, mixed pentanes get everything going faster. Your engine warms up more quickly. (This is important—engines wear faster when they're cold.)

4. How to get out of deep snow

Try the ice technique first. If the car will move, rock it out of the hole by using forward and reverse gears quickly in turn. Another tip—use a sack under the tire to get traction.

5. How to guard against skids—and how to correct them

When the going is slippery, shun any abrupt movement. Turn gently, brake gently, accelerate gently. When you start out, test your brake and gas pedals extra cautiously to find out just how slippery the road actually is. (Ice at 32° F. is twice as slippery as ice at zero.)

In a skid, take your foot off the gas pedal, but leave it off the brake. Turn the wheel the same way the rear end is sliding.

Note: The wider, deeper tread on snow tires can make your car more "sure-footed". Your Shell dealer stocks leading nationally-respected makes of snow tires.

6. Why your car needs to be washed more often in winter

Road salt is murder on metal. But here's the rub—it's packed mud or snow that actually hold salt against the underside of your car. The mud clings while the salt works away. If you abhor rust bubbles and pock-marked chrome, have your Shell dealer wash your car regularly—both where it shows and where the salted mudpacks live.

7. Why you should keep your gas tank full in winter

Never let your gas tank get below half full. The less air in the tank, the less moisture there is to condense. Water formed by condensation can collect in your tank, if it gets into the gas-line and freezes it can cut the fuel supply dead. Your Shell dealer can take away worries about gas-line freezing by adding fresh gas-line anti-freeze every other time you fill up.

8. How to revive a "drowned" engine

Sometimes, driving snow builds up under the hood of a parked car. When you move away and things warm up, the snow melts—causes electrical shorts that snuff out your engine.

Prevention—after your car's been out in a snow storm, check under the hood before you start up. If you find snow on the engine—brush it off. Cure—carry an aerosol can of water dispersing chemical in your glove compartment. (You can get one at your Shell station.) Spray the chemical over the wet parts.

It will dry out your electrical system quickly by displacing the moisture.

9. How to stop locks from freezing—and how to free them

Have your Shell dealer squirt graphite into door and trunk locks, and chances are you'll have no trouble. If you do find yourself out in the cold, heat the key with a match.

10. Why your car NEEDS a change of pace

A steady diet of city and suburban driving can foul up your engine with impurities. It will sound and feel rough. When you take a trip at highway speeds, engine deposits are shaken free and fly out of the tailpipe.

Note: Shell X-100 Premium is the only motor oil that protects your engine against impurities by "plating" metal surfaces with a thin chemical film. This acts as a barrier against acid attack. X-100 Premium also guards your engine by lubricating surely, both at the coldest temperatures and on the highway. This is because it's a multi-grade year-round oil—resists thickening on a January night or thinning out in Florida.

Charges Should Be Laid In Hunting Deaths—Jury

ALBERNI — Negligence on the part of Ronald Pitman, 18, was blamed for the hunting death Nov. 25 of Felix Theodore Brooks, 41, a B.C. Forest Service employee.

Verdict was returned by a coroner's jury which deliberated for three hours Friday night after hearing evidence in the case, and made five recommendations for the safety of hunters:

1. Hunters of deer or big game should carry binoculars or a telescope to distinguish the game they intend to shoot.
2. All hunters should carry some form of personal liability insurance.
3. Every person who kills another person in a hunting accident should be charged under the Criminal Code.
4. Age of an adult under the Game Act should be raised from 18 years to 21 years.
5. Hunting hours should be confined to those between one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

Foreman of the jury was Chris Holcombe, a well-known local woodsman.

According to evidence, Brooks, Henry Doerksen, Melvin Cooper and James Darby had separated just minutes before the accident, and Doerksen and Brooks were together when a shot was fired and Brooks fell.

Doerksen called for help, and Darby returned to the scene. Other evidence showed Pitman and two other juveniles, who were on a lower road, jumped on motorcycles and read away after the shot was fired.

One of the juveniles, however, stopped a car and led the occupants to the dead man.

AT LADYSMITH

Youth Drowns In Pier Plunge

LADYSMITH—An inquest will be held later this week into the death of Ralph Wilcox, 18, who drowned Friday night when the car in which he was riding plunged off the government wharf here.

Ladysmith RCMP said today it will be conducted by Coroner Dr. H. W. Lewis of Nanaimo.

The accident victim was one of three local juveniles in the car. The other two, whose names have not been released by police, escaped from the car by smashing the windows.

They made their own way to the wharf, then walked to the police office to report the tragedy.

The car was found in 25 feet of water and the body was recovered.

One of the survivors was the driver of the car, which belongs to his father. Both boys were treated at Ladysmith General Hospital and released.

"We drove down the wharf and when we came to the end the driver applied the brakes. It was slippery. The car slid, hit the rail, and turned over."

'Growing Friendship' Observed By Anglicans, Roman Catholics

Archbishop Harold Sexton today referred to the "growing friendship" between Anglicans and Roman Catholics.

He extended a warm welcome to Dom Cuthbert Butler, Abbot of Downside Abbey, England, and Abbot the growing friendship between Anglicans and Roman Catholics, the archbishop told the Times.

"Lord Fisher, the former Archbishop of Canterbury, has stated that Anglicans and Roman Catholics are fast becoming allies. And the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool has spoken publicly of the happy relationships which have developed very largely from Lord Fisher's recent visit to the Vatican."

Dom Butler will speak Tuesday night on "The Second Vatican Council and the Ecumenical (world-wide Christian) movement."

"Both Protestants and Catholics are welcome," Archbishop Sexton said.

The Roman Catholic abbot will stay here with his brother, Rev. Canon Hilary Butler, an Anglican clergyman living at 2684 Seaview.

Canon Butler is known as the John Albert Hall lecturer to the diocese of British Columbia.

MONTE ROBERTS

If the kindly management will permit, and if the loyal constituents will be patient, I would like to borrow this space today for a personal purpose.

My purpose is to direct a few words of explanation to the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon. I am afraid the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon may have received an erroneous impression, and I am most anxious to correct it.

I am afraid the impression absorbed by this gentleman who came to my door Friday afternoon was, approximately: "My goodness gracious, here's a real, genuine, hen-pecked husband."

And this is not the case at all. My favorite wife is most kind to me at all times, and allows me to do just as I wish.

You see, what was happening Friday afternoon was, I was putting around in the kitchen, cooking up some man-type edibles for consumption during the football game scheduled for the morrow.

Some of my friends were coming in to help me watch the game, and naturally, it takes a man to cook up man-type edibles.

And, quite naturally, I was wearing my white man's large size cooking apron.

So when I went to answer the door, and the gentleman asked me if I wanted to buy something, there I stood in my apron.

Now, that wouldn't have been so bad. But I am the unfortunate type who cannot give a simple "no" to a salesman.

I have to explain. "No, thanks," I said. "You see," I said, "my wife isn't home, and I'm not allowed to buy anything."

So you can see the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon may have gained the wrong impression, and I thank one and all for this opportunity to correct it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Victoria Kinsmen would like to give a new car for top prize in tonight's giant bingo at Memorial Arena — if they can find it.

The specially-ordered deluxe 1962 model coach, serviced, polished and ready to be won, disappeared at the weekend from a canopied lot at the rear of Olson Motors.

When the garage looked for it today and couldn't find it, a salesman phoned bingo chairman Jack Phillips to ask if he had it.

He didn't, so police were told it is presumed stolen.

"We'll have to substitute," Phillips said.

Ex-service women's branch of the Canadian Legion will hold a Christmas sale in the Britannia Legion auditorium, Blanshard Street, next Saturday from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Trucker Admits Negligence In Run From Police

A 23-year-old truckdriver who was arrested early Saturday morning after a police chase with speeds up to 80 miles an hour, pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of criminally negligent driving.

Leslie Charles Jones, 2711 Jacklin, was fined $250 or one month in default and prohibited from driving anywhere in Canada for two years.

Police said Jones was seen drag racing along Douglas north of the Roundabout. He was chased along Cloverdale and Quadra at up to 80 miles an hour by a city police car.

He lost control of the car on a curve near the intersection of Quadra and Union and slammed into a power pole. The car turned on to its roof.

Three passengers and the accused all needed hospital attention, police said. The car was demolished.

The annual Christmas seal campaign, sponsored here by the Soroptimist Club of Greater Victoria, has collected $12,740 so far for the B.C. Tuberculosis Society.

Seals were mailed on Nov. 10. Anyone who has not received them can contact campaign headquarters at 749 Broughton St. Tel. EV 24422.

Rum and sailors have been synonymous since long before the days of Nelson—but not if the city is only 19.

Brian Osborne, HMCS St. Theresa, was fined $20 in city police court today after he pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession of liquor—a half bottle of rum.

City parks committee today decided to undertake the role of peacemaker in an effort to head off a range war between riders and nature lovers in Thetis Lake Park.

Committee decided to seek a meeting with riding groups to discuss a complaint by Thetis Lake Park Nature Sanctuary Association that they were encroaching on the sanctuary.

The sanctuary association pointed out that the horses were cutting up areas of the sanctuary and generally messing up the single trail. They asked that riders be restricted to some 1,000 acres of the park outside the sanctuary.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren said the "ultimate solution" to the dispute would be construction of a separate horse trail, but this would cost thousands of dollars.

Winners of the weekly tournament conducted by the Victoria Unit, American Contract Bridge League, were: 1, Ethel Cleworth and E. Goodwin; 2, Madge Meachem and G. Dickson; 3, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dupray; 4, Elizabeth Warren and L. Stewart; 5, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Artlett.

St. Alban's 50-Up Club will meet on Thursday at 2:15 p.m. in the parish hall, 1468 Ryan.

All candidates in the Thursday Saanich municipal election have been invited to address a public meeting at the Mount Tolmie CCF Hall, Richmond and Cedar Hill Cross Road, at 8 tonight. The election rally is sponsored by the Saanich Voters' Association.

Meeting of the Old Age Pensioners' Association, branch No. 3, will be held in the Naval Veterans' Hall, Broad Street, on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Tuesday Meetings

Kiwanis Club of Victoria: Empress, 12:10 noon, 4-H oratorical contest finalists.

North Victoria Kiwanis Club: Tally-Ho, 6:15 p.m. Speaker, Seymour Parks on "Your Parks."

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan today called for an effort on all sides to re-establish a happy and sensible approach to development of the Columbia River.

"The people of Canada would give a great deal of credit to the individual who made the first move," he said.

"Something more than face-saving is involved."

Mr. Strachan said it is time "all these people who have been going berserk stopped doing so and took a long look at the whole situation."

"Irrespective of whether it is a federal blunder or a provincial blunder, a blunder has been made."

"I'm appealing to both the provincial and federal governments to establish a sensible relationship."

PAY INCREASE TO ENGINEERS

B.C. government stationary engineers have won raises ranging from $36 to $55 a month.

A B.C. Government Employees' Association spokesman said confirmation that the raises are approved by the Treasury Board has been received today.

The engineers got exactly what they requested in all classifications, and the raises are retroactive to last April 1.

The award was seen as a hopeful sign that the government will grant a general civil service wage boost for next April 1.

Power Failure Follows Crash

A crop of weekend accidents on rain-slicked streets sent more than a dozen people to hospital and blacked out about 4,000 Saanich homes for an hour and 45 minutes Saturday evening.

The blackout resulted when a small English car missed a curve on Blenkinsop Road near Mount Douglas Cross Road, struck a power pole and overturned at 4:45 p.m.

Driver John A. Croft, 5230 Rambler, suffered only cuts to the forehead, for which he was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital and released. His car was a total loss.

FEEDER LINE

The power pole was part of a feeder line carrying electricity to the Gordon Head-Cordova Bay area.

The pole was not broken but one of the 12,000-volt lines was knocked down. At about 5:22 p.m. the loose wire brushed against a metal stay.

Witnesses reported three brilliant flashes and then a transformer blew. This cut off power in the Gordon Head, Cordova Bay, Blenkinsop Lake areas, and along parts of Royal Oak Avenue and the Patricia Bay Highway.

B.C. Electric and police switchboards were swamped with calls.

Repair crews had the power restored by 7:07 p.m.

SECOND TIME

Another unusual stroke of fate Saturday saw a five-year-old boy struck by a car for the second time in three months at the intersection of Oak Bay Avenue and Foul Bay.

In good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital is Gordon Gillis, 1056 Foul Bay. He is suffering a broken shoulder and head injuries.

Oak Bay police said the boy was struck by a car as he crossed Oak Bay Avenue about 2 p.m. A wheel of the car was reported to have passed over the boy's chest.

Driver was identified as Eleanor Dora Tonsford, 2506 Wootton Crescent.

JUMPED CURB

Three months ago young Gordon received severe head and eye injuries when a car jumped the curb at the same spot and struck him.

A 23-year-old woman was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital later in the afternoon after being in collision with a car at Douglas and Broughton.

Reported in good condition today is Joan Cree, 1125 Hillside. She suffered head and leg injuries and was admitted for observation.

PASADENA-BOUND TO PLAY IN FAMED ROSE PARADE

Joan Has to Eat and Run Christmas Day

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Joan Marsh, 17, of Victoria High School, is in a musician's seventh heaven today.

She is one of three instrumentalists picked from about 1,500 B.C. high school contestants to play in the famous 150-piece Robin Hood Band in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena.

Two Vancouver instrumentalists have also been chosen.

"I'm still suffering from shock," laughed Joan, interviewed in the music room at Victoria High School. "It's wonderful—just wonderful."

Joan was picked from four finalists chosen from 15 contestants from Vancouver Island school bands. She received the good news by phone from Victoria office of the Independent Order of Foresters, sponsors of the contest.

TAPES SENT Instrumentalists in Britain, the United States and Canada competed for places in the band, and tapes of their trial recordings were sent to Pasadena for adjudication.

"There were about 1,500 entries from all parts of B.C." an I.O.F. spokesman said.

Joan Marsh, described as a good all-round Grade 12 student, took up the euphonium six years ago when she was 11 years old.

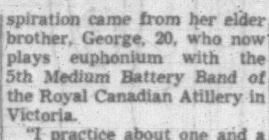

She says most of the inspiration came from her elder brother, George, 20, who now plays euphonium with the 5th Medium Battery Band of the Royal Canadian Artillery in Victoria.

"I practice about one and a half hours a day, on week days and a little less on Sundays," Joan said.

She also plays with the 92-piece Victoria High School band.

There is only one drawback. Joan will have to leave for Pasadena on Christmas night to rehearse with the Robin Hood Band ahead of the big parade.

She will wear the traditional Robin Hood uniform.

Sexy Paperbacks Alarm Aldermen

Children Buy Them With Ease

City health and welfare committee today showed alarm over sexy paperback books available to youngsters in store magazine racks.

Members indicated they felt the federal government should exercise greater control over "filthy" books.

But action—expected to take the shape of a city resolution to Ottawa requesting more stringent control—was withheld pending receipt of the library board's views on the situation.

EASY TO GET

Discussion arose out of a complaint by P. J. Tarr, 1137 Yates, who claimed "filthy literature" worse than officially banned books is readily available on magazine racks for lack of legislation barring them.

"This is a very difficult subject for a municipal council to deal with because it's a matter of importation," said Ald. A. W. Toone.

Ald. Toone indicated he preferred a qualified board of censors being given power to ban books rather than customs personnel.

DECIDE THEMSELVES

"I disagree entirely with allowing children to get some of these books, but on the other hand, I'm very much concerned about restriction of the press and free speech—for adults, who after all can decide these things for themselves."

Ald. Toone suggested a solution might lie in some system of segregation which would prevent certain books from being available to children on the open market while at the same time making them available for adults who wished to buy them.

ONLY WAY

City manager C. C. Wyatt said about the only thing city council could do is send a resolution to the federal government asking "more severe control" of undesirable books.

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson suggested a request for the library board's views before a resolution is framed.

ONE SLIP and this 20-pound turkey could kill the cook. Frozen solid in ship's refrigerator hold, Tom Turkey for St. Catharines Christmas dinner is held aloft by second cook "Big Bob" Cowie, Vancouver, who towers 6'5" over chief cook Ken Marshall, Shawigan Lake, as third cook Bob Williamson, Toronto, looks on. WEATHERSHIP PREPARED

They Celebrate 900 Miles Out

By AB KENT

Fifty-six men sail Tuesday to Station Papa for a rendezvous with Father Christmas.

WeatherShip St. Catharines will be steaming her 200 square miles of stormy Pacific Ocean on Christmas and New Year's during her seven-week spell some 900 miles west of Juan de Fuca Strait.

But like all men who pledge themselves to the sea, the prospect of another voyage is not unpleasant—especially when it brings promise of a Christmas party with all the trimmings.

PLENTY OF FOOD

In ship's stores are 16 hefty turkeys, 18 hams, cases of Japanese oranges, boxes of nuts, candy and festive goodies.

Capt. James Sleight will pour a cup that cheers Christmas Day, and the men may have their own favorite refreshments to share with their mates.

The government service hasn't the same traditions as the navy when it comes to Christmas at sea, but as with all sea-going vessels, St. Catharines will have a fir tree at the masthead.

In the mess decks there will be decorated trees, small ones on the tables, a larger one in the recreation room.

MOVIE

For their holiday program—for those off-watch—there will be a movie the crew has chosen from the regular list of titles.

But there will be business as usual in spite of the holiday.

Nothing short of disaster forces the weatherships from their lonely patrol on the high seas.

Even engine breakdown is not considered too serious because while on station the ships run on one, leaving the other in reserve.

AWAY FROM IT

"Even colds are rare," observed third engineer Charlie

Gillard, of Shawigan Lake. "We're away from all that when we're out there."

He said the men with families leave them with their own prospects for a happy Christmas.

HOME JAN. 22

Some families may have their "Christmas dinner" tonight, others may wait until daddy comes home Jan. 22.

But most take aboard the little packages their families have given them and open them Christmas morning to lend a brighter air to the generally cloudy skies.

"They'll count their blessings, too."

Said one, as his mates stowed away the last of provisions:

"We're lucky to have a job."

ASK The TIMES

Q. Please let me know the difference between the French Croix de Guerre and the Médaille Militaire. E.V.B.

A. The Croix de Guerre, instituted in 1915, is awarded to members of the French Army and Navy, or members of armies and navies of allies of France, of all ranks for an individual act of bravery in battle mentioned in French dispatches. The Médaille Militaire, instituted in 1852, is roughly equivalent to the DCM of Commonwealth armies. It is awarded to general officers in command of armies or admirals in charge of fleets; and to NCOs and men in the French Army and Navy for distinguished service in action. The Croix de Guerre is the greater honor.

Q. Would you give me the name and address of the warden of the B.C. penitentiary in New Westminster? G.J.

A. The warden is Thomas W. Hall, c/o the Provincial Penitentiary, New Westminster.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Their Eyes Will Light Up At Sight of Little Lamps

By PENNY SAVER

Hi Sis: Remember when I told you about the Victoria company that makes miniature cluster lights? Think what wonderful gifts they would make for our out-of-town friends at cost of $4.50.

The same company now is producing miniature, miniature cluster lights. I'm serious. The original lights stand 12 inches high, but this line is only six inches high. Made on the same idea as the first ones, they stand on a round wooden base, and feature tiny porcelain dogs and cats playing under them. They're really cute and only $2.50.

Still another line, that makes adorable place marks, stand on a plastic base that has a groove for the card. These sell for $1.75.

Do you still love carolling as much as ever, or are you content to sit back and listen. In either case you'll love the long play records I've seen. "Merry Music for Christmas," features 14 vocals and chorals; "The Wonderful Sounds of Christmas," 12 vocal carols, with organ and chimes; "Christmas Carols," 17 organ and chimes; "Have a Merry Christmas," 12 carols, vocal, organ, chorus and chimes; "Christmas Surprise Package," 14 vocal, chorus and organ; and "The Joy of Christmas," 12 carols, chimes, organ and choir. All of these 33 1/3 rpm records are refundable if there is a defect and sell for only $1.49.

On a busy day—there's plenty of 'em coming up—nothing is quite as refreshing as a shower. Trouble is they are dynamite on the hairdo. I should really say, "trouble was," because something new in shower caps will let you shower without disturbing your hair or your make-up. Made of a durable, stiff plastic, it covers from crown to chin without touching anything but the tippy-top of your head. It has a Mardi Gras mask painted on the front and a slit for breathing. Would make a cute gift too, for only $1.50.

Is that niece of ours still a little book worm? If so, she'll love the plastic book caddy I spied. Almost any size book will fit. It has an attached book mark, handles, is easy to clean, comes in brown or striped finish and sells for only $1.50. Call me soon.

WHY GROW OLD?

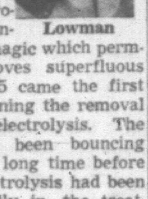

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Minor Beauty Blessings Actually Add Much to Pleasure

We certainly take our blessings for granted! I am not talking today about our real and vital blessings, but those which are minor by comparison. Yet these add so very much to one's pleasures, self-confidence and attractive appearance.

Take electrolysis, for instance, that magic which permanently removes superfluous hair. In 1875 came the first report concerning the removal of hair by electrolysis. The thought had been bouncing around for a long time before that, and electrolysis had been used medically in the treatment of tumors as early as 1867.

It seems that folks (women, I bet) were willing to accept rugged experiences long ago in order to rid themselves of superfluous hair. As late as 1878 physicians were using such techniques as plucking the hairs and then inserting a needle which had been dipped in caustic potash or carbolic acid into the follicles. Compare that with the ease

No Better Answer!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are twins (16) who read your column every day and respect your opinion greatly. So do our parents. Our parents forbid us to date boys out of our religion. We don't intend to get serious about these boys, we just want to date them. Isn't it better to go with them and get it out of our systems than not be able to and think we are missing something?

THE TWINS

DEAR TWINS: The following letter was received the same day yours came. It's as good an answer as I could give. And it's from a girl your age: "Dear Abby: I have been wanting to write this letter for a long time. I read your fabulous, and I do mean fabulous — book, 'Dear Teenager.' I followed your advice on personality and dating out of my faith. As a consequence, I am now going steady with the most wonderful boy in the world. He is of my own religion and he treats me like a queen. He has never asked me for anything more than a kiss. Abby, please go right on telling girls to stay with boys of their own faith and they'll stay out of difficult situations. Thank you with all my heart.

"SWEET 16 AND NEVER BEEN HAPPIER!"

DEAR ABBY: I want to ask you in all seriousness — how can a man know if his prospective bride is virtuous or not?

SERIOUS DEAR SERIOUS: Ask her!

She called him and he ran right over and put it in first class condition. Afterwards, I told my husband and we all had a good laugh about it. Ever since then I have had no trouble getting things fixed at home. G.A.

Thousands Attend Gigantic Rally

Nearly 3,000 Guides and Brownies in the Greater Victoria area gathered for a "Scotland the Brave" by Victoria Girls' Pipe Band. The line of 2,000 Guides marched by, preceded by color parties of the 45 companies represented. Following the march past the six divisions of the Greater Victoria, Saanich and Juan de Fuca areas presented a program of songs and dancing based on an international theme. Earlier that afternoon, Mrs. Peakes had been greeted by a Welcome Song given by 800 Brownies who waited in a huge "fairy ring," seven flanks deep, for her arrival. There was much stamping of feet, explicit arm gestures and a strong wave of voices as they sang some of their favorite choruses for their distinguished visitor. Obviously impressed by their enthusiasm Mrs. Peakes told them, "This Rally is really a great thing — it shows so clearly how much spirit there is in the Guide movement and how wonderful the work that has been done."

Mrs. Peakes was presented with a gold tenderfoot pin by Mrs. Roy Holmes, provincial commissioner of the British Columbia Guides. Pin was a gift from the B.C. Guide Association. She also received a "garden," planted in a hand-made ceramic container, from the Brownies. Another "garden" was presented to Mrs. Holmes.

Brownie part of rally was arranged by Mrs. V. A. Smith, Brown Owl of the 34th Victoria pack; Mrs. H. Smith, Brown Owl of the 28th Lake Hill Pack and Mrs. John Chapman, Brown Owl of the 4th Victoria Pack.

Wins Scholarship

Rosa Maria's father has an undiagnosed lung disease; her mother works as an ironer in a shirt factory for 40 cents a day. The girl's parents are refugees from the Spanish Civil War, now living in Toulouse, France, and the 14-year-old girl calls a makeshift hut her home.

In spite of many hardships, Rosa Marie is happy because she is included in this year's crop of brilliant students who will receive a $500 scholarship each to continue their schooling. The scholarships are provided by the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada each year to deserving teenagers and daughters of destitute Spanish refugees in southern France. USC headquarters at 78 Sparks Street, Ottawa, is appealing for $250,000 for over 70 projects of relief and rehabilitation.

At Saturday's meeting, a sum of $289 was received in memberships; $105 from tea tickets and $85.55 from a raffle of a framed 1889 lithograph of The Castle. Draw was made by Miss Kathleen Agnew. Further sustaining memberships of $25 were announced from Miss Norma Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartholomew of Home Furniture Company; Ian Ross of the Butchart Gardens and Harold Husband, Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

Society Plans Castle Lighting By March; Annual Meeting Held

Gold, mauve and pink chrysanthemums from "Strange-wood," the Gordon Head home of Mrs. S. L. McMullen, and also from the Gordon Head garden of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Paddon, decorated rooms of "The Highlands," Terrace Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Millard F. Loughheed, on Saturday. Occasion was the annual meeting of the Society for the Preservation and Maintenance of Craigdarroch Castle.

The flowers, with a Victorian silver candelabra holding pink candles, centred the long table in the dining room, where Mrs. T. G. Keir, Mrs. J. Howard Harman, Mrs. Douglas E. Alcorn and Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan poured tea and coffee.

Gold laurel leaves and pine cones were arranged by Mrs. Loughheed on either side of the massive fireplace in the paneled baronial hall, with its enormous stained-glass window, wide staircase and balcony.

IF GIVEN PERMISSION It was announced that Craigdarroch Castle will be flood-lit by mid-March if the society receives permission of Greater Victoria School Board. Work, to cost $2,000, will be permanent, and not only for centennial year.

Lighting is made possible through society funds that include an $800 grant from the city's centennial committee and $500 from former lieutenant-governor Frank Mackenzie Ross and Mrs. Ross.

Special lighting committee will include members of the executive with Kenneth Reid, city electrical officer, and Rod Clack, chairman of the centennial lighting committee and a representative of the school board to be named.

The executive members, re-elected by acclamation, are James K. Nesbitt, president; James Audain, vice-president; Mrs. W. Lloyd Morgan, second vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Drury, secretary; Peter N. Cotton, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Luney, Richard B. George, Miss Inez Mitchell and J. Courtney Haddock.

MONEY RECEIVED At Saturday's meeting, a sum of $289 was received in memberships; $105 from tea tickets and $85.55 from a raffle of a framed 1889 lithograph of The Castle. Draw was made by Miss Kathleen Agnew. Further sustaining memberships of $25 were announced from Miss Norma Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartholomew of Home Furniture Company; Ian Ross of the Butchart Gardens and Harold Husband, Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

"THE HIGHLANDS" "The Highlands" was built in the 1890's by lumberman William J. Macaulay, grandfather of Capt. Alex Peabody. For some years it was the home of Frank "Dib" Little, mine manager and close personal friend and companion of Hon. James Dunsinuir, son of Robert, of Craigdarroch.

At Saturday's reception committee were Miss Inez Mitchell, Mrs. Kenneth C. Drury, Mrs. Gwladys Welsh and Miss Lucie Woodrow. Teatime music was played by William Tickle and Bert Zala.

Entertainment consisted of carol singing, games and a story by Mrs. Holmes. Mrs. Emmerton cut a specially decorated cake. Table decorations and novelties were by Mrs. G. Neal, Brown Owl of First Colwood Pack.

Mrs. A. G. Atkins, in her Indian Guide uniform, sang taps. Serving refreshments were Mrs. G. W. S. Brooks, Lagoon District commissioner, and Mrs. A. L. C. Atkinson. Kitchen arrangements were in charge of Heather Atkinson, Mrs. A. Green, Mrs. C. R. Dibnah, Lakes district commissioner, and Miss Heather Thomas, lieutenant of the Seventh Guide Company, Victoria.

Mrs. A. H. Russell and Mrs. H. Cameron convened all arrangements, assisted by Mrs. G. Gillett and Langford Guides, the Misses Glenna Paget and Valerie Smith.

Six Esquimalt Candidates Sailing Through Calm Sea

The Esquimalt political sea remains free of storm waves despite six aspirants for three council vacancies.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele, captain of the Esquimalt crew, quietly retained his seat at the helm for another two-year voyage by acclamation.

Council mates Walter Holder, Gerry Sammon and Arthur Fields are trying for a further stay by the mast while newcomers David (Bert) Nelson, Peter Francis, and Leslie (Fred) Tooby hope to dislodge them.

But as yet no issue has arisen which could blow up a tempest.

The election will be a choice of personalities because all candidates concede the work of the present council has kept the municipality in safe waters.

PUBLIC IN DARK

A few innovations would like to be seen in the community by aspirants Mr. Nelson and Mr. Tooby, however.

Mr. Nelson feels not enough information from council is given to the public, and too many committee meetings are conducted in camera.

Fred Tooby, an amateur sports booster, would like to see a youth program with emphasis on sports, a community swimming pool. He also wants better lighting in Esquimalt.

A rundown of the contestants and a short log book on each follows:

Arthur Fields: A seven-year member of the council. His platform has always been to run the municipality like an efficient business.

"I believe in the pay-as-you-go plan," Mr. Fields says, "and I am not for amalgamation at the present time."

Mr. Fields is a grocer.

Peter Francis: An electrical draughtsman at HMC Dockyard, Mr. Francis ran for council in 1959 and finished fourth.

"Common sense, good judgment and integrity are what I have to offer," says Mr. Francis, "and I have always taken a keen interest in municipal affairs."

Amalgamation is not particularly favorable for Esquimalt, he said.

Walter Holder: A nine-year veteran of the Esquimalt council, Mr. Holder wants to continue the good work he feels has already been done.

"I also want to keep the taxes in line and despite growth of schools and development I think this can be accomplished."

Mr. Holder has lived in Esquimalt since 1906. He feels amalgamation will come eventually.

"But we're not ready for it yet," he said. "When we are, I think the impetus will come from the provincial government."

David (Bert) Nelson: A retired naval chief petty officer, Mr. Nelson now operates a bowling alley.

He is a former professional footballer, he is keenly interested in municipal affairs.

"Mr. Wurtele has called his council a good team," Mr. Nelson says, "and I agree with him. But every team needs new faces in order to stay on top."

"I think amalgamation would be foolish right now," he added. "The intermunicipal council is doing a fine job."

Leslie (Fred) Tooby: A crane operator at HMC Dockyard, Mr. Tooby is a veteran soccer player and referee.

He bases his platform on improved street lighting, a swimming pool and a youth program.

"I have been the instigator of many petitions and have done much in Esquimalt," he said. "I just hope I get a chance to do the bidding of the people of Esquimalt in their council meetings."

BERT NELSON

Gerald Sammon: A nine-year member of the Esquimalt council, Mr. Sammon has been on every committee.

He is now Esquimalt representative on the intermunicipal committee. He is against amalgamation, but for co-operation between the four Victoria municipalities.

"I am also for continued progress in Esquimalt and I feel we are getting it under the present council."

Medical laboratory supervisor at Veterans' Hospital, Mr. Sammon says he stands on his record.

SINGLE FOREIGN POLICY FOR ECM SEEN BY GREEN

OTTAWA (CP) — Membership in the European Common Market could lead Britain toward a common foreign policy with the countries of Western Europe, External Affairs Minister Green suggested Saturday night.

He raised the question of how this would square with Britain's position as leader of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Green's statement, made in answer to a question at a student United Nations banquet, was perhaps the most explicit statement of misgivings yet made by a Canadian government leader about the political ramifications of Britain's decision to seek membership in the Common Market.

Hitherto, Canadian officials have emphasized the economic hardship which Britain's move might cause other Commonwealth members.

JFK Wants Power To Deal With ECM

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy will ask Congress for sufficient power to work towards partial free trade with Europe's Common Market, it was learned from authorities who have been working on the program since August.

The president's proposals, to be placed before Congress early next month, would empower him through broad reciprocal trade deals to reduce U.S. tariffs by an overall 50 per cent over a period of two to three years.

Kennedy intends, however, to ask for sufficient flexibility to exercise the proposed power in such a way that it may result in cuts of less than 50 per cent on some categories.

HILLBILLY LOST

'He Was Restless Soul'

MOUNT ZION, N.C. (UPI) — Authorities have called off their search for a 99-year-old mountaineer who disappeared on one of his customary hikes into the hills here a week ago.

Wilson White, who had a habit of striking out into the mountains for overnight walks, was last seen a week ago when he told his 71-year-old daughter, Mary, he was "going for a walk down along the creek."

Wilkes County Sheriff Fred Myers said his investigation now would concentrate on the possibility of foul play in White's disappearance. He said White's family told him the old man was carrying $300 cash with him when last seen.

White's son, Nesse, who is 69, said his father "was a restless soul... forever talking about going somewhere. He used to walk to Kentucky when I was a young 'un and he'd be gone for a year."

Farmer Favors Concessions For Tax Cuts

Farmers were told at the B.C. Federation of Agriculture here Friday they should be prepared to make certain concessions to the government if they want land taxes reduced.

C. R. Winskill, Fraser Valley, suggested they give the government a guarantee they will not sell their lands for real estate purposes for a period of years in return for tax reductions.

He pointed a grower can't have it both ways and expect to sell land for other purposes than farm use.

He said his proposal would also have the effect of preserving "green belts" around urban communities and curb the sale of valuable farm lands for real estate.

But some growers felt they were entitled to tax reductions without any strings attached.

The delegates gave the green light to its directors to approach the provincial cabinet with respect to amending the Municipal Act in such a way as to permit a flat rate assessment per acre on agricultural lands.

Lutheran Would Shun Christmas

NEW YORK (AP) — A Lutheran says churches should ignore Christmas.

Rev. Dr. Edgar S. Brown, director of worship for the United Lutheran Church in America, has this to say in an article appearing in The Lutheran, official weekly paper of the church:

"Christmas, the annual pious salute in the direction of religion, is now, the property of the business world, and I say it's high time that the church said in unmistakably clear words that it intends to divorce itself from the whole mess."

"Let the churches simply ignore the 25th of December the way most of them pass by Ascension Day."

"Then everyone could have a Merry Christmas without having to go to church, and the church wouldn't have to sit like a stood-up female wringing her hands."

FOR CHURCH COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP

Belief in Trinity, Bible, Needed

NEW DELHI (AP) — The World Council of Churches spelled out Saturday additional requirements for membership, including belief in the Holy Trinity and the Bible as guides of faith.

It was a fundamental step for the council, which embraces a vast and varied cross section of the Christian churches.

Churchmen ranging from Bible-stressing evangelicals to liturgical-centred Eastern Orthodox leaders hailed the move. Some liberal wings opposed it as tending toward creedalism. But, after nearly two hours debate in this Indian capital it swept through the council's general assembly by a 386-to-36 vote, followed by applause and a prayer.

Previously the council had required only that members "accept our Lord Jesus Christ as God and saviour."

The council includes 188 denominations of nearly every sort varying from Pentecostals and Mennonites to traditionalist non-Roman Catholics and ancient ceremonial Copts. Several Roman Catholic leaders as well as conservative Protestant groups, including some not in the council, had expressed approval of the change. The Vatican has five observers on hand here.

The delegates, representing churches with about 350,000,000 members around the globe, also dealt with a flood of committee-drafted proposals streaming to the assembly floor in these closing four days.

They adopted a report of the council's international affairs commission which said the United Nations efforts to conciliate were "seriously hampered" by not including Red China.

Among other action the assembly also:

Deplored "nuclear tests by France and the resumption of nuclear tests by the Soviet Union" and expressed hope the United States will "not find it necessary" to resume atmospheric tests. It warned against arming West Germany with nuclear weapons.

Unanimously adopted a resolution condemning anti-Semitism as "a sin against God and man."

Reaffirmed its conviction that "any form of segregation based on race, color or ethnic origin is contrary to the gospel.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions to select to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to John Levi, age 11, of Buffalo, N.Y., for his question:

How were the constellations formed?

If you saw the stars for the first time, they would seem to be scattered helter-skelter across the vast dome of the sky. If you gazed night after night, you would soon come to recognize patterns and designs of stars. Four bright stars over there form a square. Over there, another group forms a letter W, another a triangle. These recognizable star groups are the constellations.

The ancient stargazers were very systematic as they studied the heavens and naturally they wanted to compare notes with each other. It is very confusing to point out a particular star or that star among the swarming hosts. For this reason, they named the groups of stars which we call the constellations. They could then identify an individual star, say, in the constellation Orion or a definite star in the tail of Ursa the Bear and everyone would know which star was meant.

Every stargazer, ancient or modern, knows that each constellation takes its own proper place in the sky. Castiopa, shaped like a W, is always opposite Ursa the Bear—which we call the Big Dipper. Every night, many of the constellations follow each other in a parade over the sky. The heavenly parade changes with the seasons. Orion is a winter constellation, Scorpio decks the summer skies. Everything seems to be in perfect order. But if we could reach, say, Polaris, the stars would be arranged in a different order. There would be none of our constellations in the sky. This is because we would be looking at a different part of the Milky Way. Our Solar System is but a speck in a vast system of billions of stars scattered through space, some fairly near to us, most of them far, far away.

Various Views of Milky Way

The earth spins on its axis and orbits the sun—taking us around to face first one view and then another of the star-studded Milky Way. The constellations are merely groups of neighboring stars which just seem to form patterns.

The stars in a constellation are all in one direction, from our point of view. However, they are not all at the same distance. One or two stars in a group may be quite near, as stars go, others may be many light years farther away and a few may be in the middle distance. Our eyes do not allow for these differences in distance and a group of stars occupying the same part of the sky seem to be neighbors. The seeming stars in the Milky Way are all swinging around like a monster wheel. Some move faster than others, but the distances between them are so vast that we cannot detect any changes in a lifetime. But through the ages, changes are occurring which gradually alter the shape of our constellations and in say, a billion years, most of the starry designs we see will be unrecognizable.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Madlyn Rhue went to 18 schools in 13 states, lived in foster homes, got fired from the Latin Quarter Chorus—twice—and starved frequently before working her way up through TV to become one of Hollywood's most respected actresses.

"I got fired from the chorus line for laughing," Madlyn says. "The girls were always saying something that would break me up."

"And I'm not a giggler, I'm a knee-slapper, so out I went—and I needed that work!"

Having come back here, to base in her success, playing Roz Russell's daughter in "A Majority of One," Madlyn was able to see the humorous side of it the other day when she sat eating cheesecake in Lindy's.

TURNED IT OFF

"One of the girls would say between shows, 'Know what I could go for? An egg roll.' We'd end up sending out for 52 egg rolls, or maybe 25 pastries on rye, pickles on 14, mustard on 12. I was in one of the drum numbers. It was so bad, when Johnny Ray sat ringside, he'd turn his hearing aid off."

One night Madlyn got a costume that was too large at the top—and Madlyn came out of it on stage.

"Just at the point where we were supposed to freeze. Well, I wasn't going to freeze under those circumstances. I adjusted everything—I thought nobody'd seen me but EVERYBODY saw me!"

Madlyn lived in such places as Pittsburgh, Denton, Texas, Atlanta, Anchorage, and Georgetown, O., in those years when she was acquiring a couple of stepfathers.

"People say 'Oh, the poor girl,' but there was nothing poor about it—I probably came out better for it than a lot of people who had a normal life."

TWO NAMES

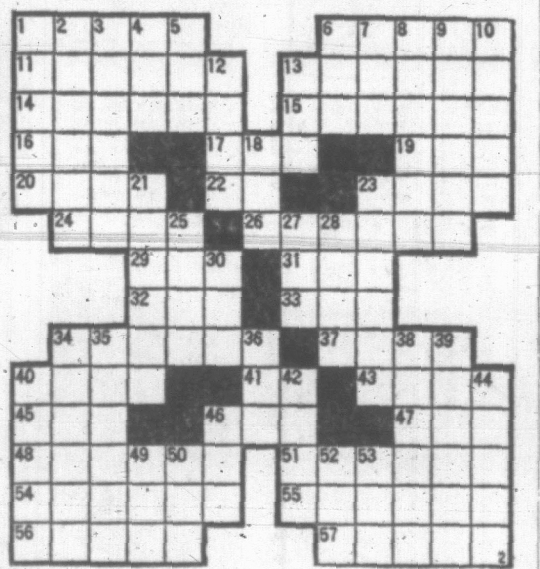

One day when she was starving in N.Y., her mother, by then in Los Angeles, managed to send her a plane ticket. Madlyn had already lived in LA—had, in fact, gone simultaneously to both Los Angeles City College and Los Angeles State College because she was in a hurry to get through quickly. She took nine hours of classes a day, using her two legal names, Madeline Solomon Rhue and Madeline Roche, so she wouldn't be found out for going to two colleges at once.

Out there she met Agent Lillian Schary Small who put her in TV and pictures—and now she's worked up to "Also Starring" in the billing.

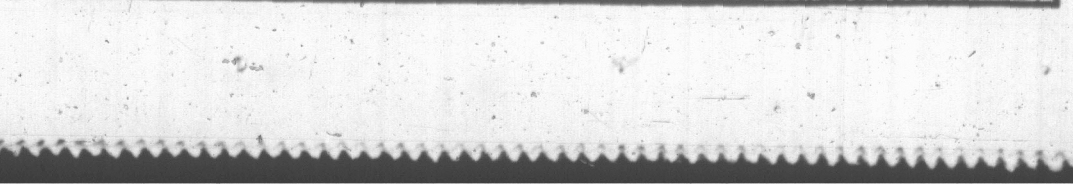

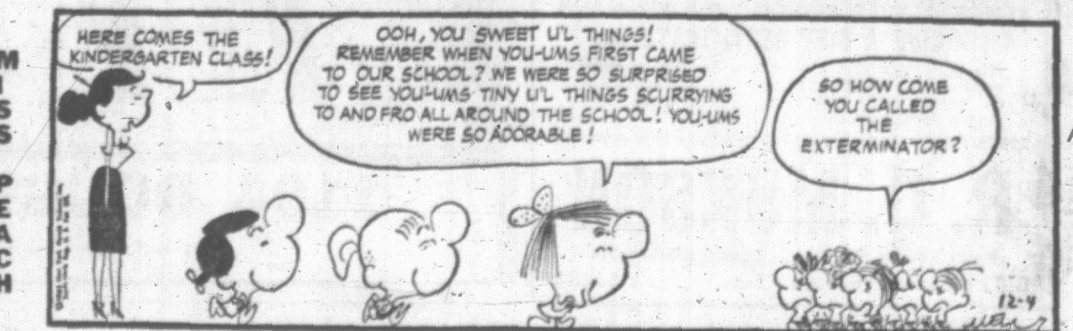

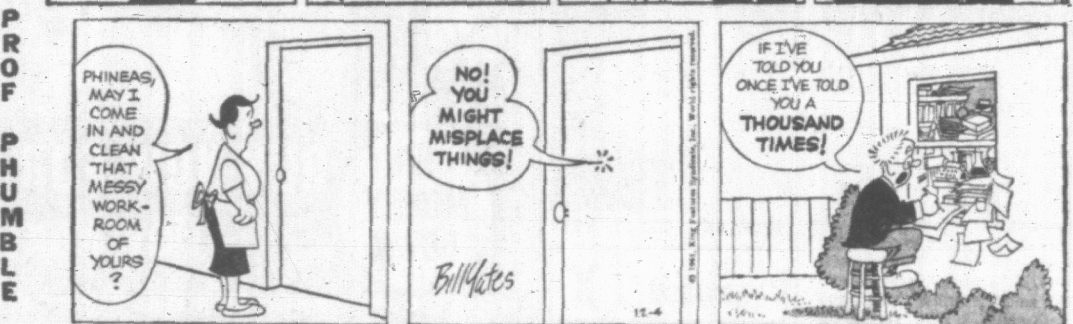

EARL'S PEARLS: To a cynic, a bachelor is just a guy who hasn't yet found a girl he wants to fight with.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Out in Hollywood, when a beautiful girl boasts she has a fixed income, she usually has a smart lawyer who fixed it.

—Hugh Allen

Bus Takeover Opposed By Mayoralty Candidates

Both mayoralty candidates opposed a city takeover of the B.C. Electric bus system, in statements made over the weekend.

R. B. Wilson said the provincial government is morally bound to continue the service until the present franchise expires in 1967. "They must continue to provide this service until that time or until a deal mutually acceptable to all four municipalities is worked out," he said.

HUGE LOSSES He said initial price of the transit system could only be viewed against "the staggering operating loss suffered by the system and the direct bearing it would have on the city mill rate."

J. Donald Smith, Victoria M.L.A. contesting the mayoralty a third time, said he is opposed to any takeover of the buses. Previously, he advocated a one-year trial of civic operation of the buses with guarantees against loss by the government.

Mr. Smith said, if elected, he would not be a party to any deal which would result in transfer of ownership of the system from the government to the city. "Let me put it this way," he said. "I wouldn't want the city to have the bus system if the government gave us the Hydro Building and threw in the Parliament Buildings."

What About the Bus Service?

The future of our bus service concerns us all. For the City of Victoria to single-handedly take it over now, as has been advocated, would mean an immediate increase of several mills in our City taxes. I am greatly opposed to the idea of the City taxpayers subsidizing the bus service.

Campaign College For Grits

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals are determined to make up in savvy what they will lack in cash for the next federal general election campaign.

The Ontario Liberal group has started a "campaign college" in Toronto for intensive, expert training of candidates and their workers in the art of making every election dollar count.

It is a new concept in federal politicking. Some parties have tried to instruct candidates in campaign basics in the past, but the Ontario effort goes far beyond the fundamentals.

BY INVITATION A closed weekend course—attendance is by invitation only—includes detailed reviews of actual case histories, followed up by written examinations, lectures on constituency organization, and lengthy instruction on all forms of advertising.

So far the stress has been on 70 of Ontario's 85 federal ridings—the Liberals feel reasonably safe in the other 15, mainly in northern Ontario, which one party official calls "the most reliable bastion of Liberalism in Canada."

But now the idea has spread to federal Liberal associations in other provinces. Party executives expect similar courses soon will be set up in Nova Scotia and in Saskatchewan and possibly in Quebec.

Ministers Feted By Indians

White and Indian brothers met at Strawberry Vale Community Hall Saturday to partake in a "friendship feast" arranged by native bands of Vancouver Island.

Entertainment included ancient Indian dances and songs. The dinner was chaired by Chief John Albany of the Songhees band, while George Clutesi, well-known Indian artist and lecturer, acted as master of ceremonies.

MINISTERS ATTEND Among the guests were three cabinet ministers—Agriculture Minister Frank R. Lester, Education Minister Leslie Peterson and Public Works Minister W. N. Oland. Dances were staged by a group led by Mrs. Flora Joseph and members of Chief Mungo Martin's band.

'RATHER RIDE DONKEY'

Ex-Islanders Learn To Survive Traffic

LONDON (AP) — Road safety instructors Saturday began teaching the children from isolated Tristan da Cunha how pedestrians survive in Britain.

The first batch of 32 students, ranging in age from 7 to 15, reported to headquarters of the Society for the Prevention of Accidents after a bus trip from "Pendell camp in Surrey — now the home of Tristan da Cunha's entire population of 264.

Until the island was evacuated in October, because of a volcanic eruption, not one of the children had ever seen an automobile.

Instructor Frank Hamlet grouped the children around a table marked with road crossings and model vehicles and pedestrians and showed what dire things can happen if you don't look both ways.

"I don't look both ways," said 10-year-old Terence Green, "would rather be back home riding a donkey."

Betty Rogers, 13, said she has no desire to ride a bicycle on British roads. "I would be too scared."

Teachers to Avoid Scary Atomic Talk

Greater Victoria School Board chairman W. C. Gelling said over the weekend that no effort to frighten children with the horrors of atomic war will be made in the controversial survival training program.

UBC Chief Part Of New Look

BOSTON (AP)—John Macdonald, newly-named president of the University of British Columbia, says he thinks his appointment is "part of a new look in college presidents."

In an interview he explained in the old days college heads "were primarily religious leaders."

"Later, academy people were chosen from a variety of fields. Today, presidents are sought who have both academy background and experience in administration."

Dr. Macdonald, a native of Toronto, is director of Boston's Forsyth Dental Infirmary, world famous post-doctoral institution in the field of dentistry.

"My background would appear, perhaps, to fit me more for insight into problems of the medical school, the dental school and the science departments," he said. "But the problems of a university go far beyond this."

"I am certainly very anxious to strengthen the humanities. The heart of any university is arts."

Mr. Lemon Hart's rums travel for a reason. Made in the heart of the West Indies they are then sent to England because the moist airs of England are traditionally the finest in the world for maturing rums. After quiet years in England they are perfectly blended, bottled and shipped to Canada and throughout the world. These expensively brought up rums, full of light-hearted charm and flavour, are happily available to Canadians at Christmas.

TIGHTENING THE SCREWS

Overhead view shows how Communists have narrowed gaps in wall at Berlin's Heinrich Heine Strasse checkpoint between east and west sectors of divided city. Water truck is at auto entrance into West Berlin. Canopied entrance for people is at right. East German police are in foreground and in background are steel tank traps in East German sector.

Reds Narrow Openings At Berlin Checkpoints

WIRE BRIEFS

Remains Not Earhart

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An anthropologist said today that human bone fragments and teeth found on the Pacific island of Saipan were not the remains of Amelia Earhart and her navigator.

Winnipeg Gets Snow

WINNIPEG (CP)—A seven-inch overnight snowfall slowed traffic to a crawl at morning rush hour today as Winnipeg got its first real taste of winter.

Riots in Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—A mob of 2,000 Europeans rioted through the streets of Constantine today, burning cars, hurling Molotov cocktails, smashing store windows and attacking Moslem passersby.

Cuban Sugar Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today extended the ban against U.S. imports of Cuban sugar for six months, thus depriving Fidel Castro's regime of another $80 million or more in trade.

BERLIN (UPI)—A U.S. army battle group of 1,500 troops today started rolling toward Berlin where American and Communist soldiers faced each other from positions less than 15 yards apart at the tense Friedrichstrasse Crossing point.

This convoy passed through Communist territory along the autobahn and cleared the Helmsdorf checkpoint after an uneventful 110-mile ride.

The large troop exchange had been decided previously, but the start of it coincided with Communist actions in narrowing gaps in crossing points between East and West Berlin.

JEEP BLOCKED

Two U.S. military cars today stopped and blocked a Soviet jeep in West Berlin less than one mile from Friedrichstrasse.

The American vehicles parked only inches away from the Soviet jeep which was occupied by one Russian officer and two enlisted men.

East German workers—tolling under floodlights and guarded by members of their own people's army—Sunday night erected a six-foot-high concrete barrier most of the way across Friedrichstrasse.

KATANGA

UN Planes Will Be Shot Down

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI)—The Katanga government today threatened to shoot down any United Nations aircraft flying over its territory, the UN reported.

A few hours earlier, Katanga gendarmes killed one Swede of the UN force, wounded two others and seized three prisoners in Elisabethville's worst day of violence since the widespread fighting in September.

UN civilian employees in Elisabethville reported this morning that they had been ordered to pack their belongings and be ready for repatriation to Leopoldville.

George Ivan Smith, top UN official here, said Katanga Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba issued the threat to the planes shortly after midnight.

SERIOUS VIEW

Smith said he told Kimba he took a "most serious view" of the matter and would report it to UN headquarters in New York immediately.

One Swede was shot dead and two wounded Sunday when their car was fired on by Katangese at a roadblock near the centre of the city.

Sunday night, the Katanga government said in a statement that the car tried to crash the roadblock set up by the gendarmes, ignoring challenges from the guards.

The statement claimed the driver was killed when the car crashed into a tree after the gendarmes fired at the car's tires. But an Italian doctor who operated on the two wounded Swedes said they had been shot at "point blank range."

Later, Katangese gendarmes stopped a Swedish UN ambulance and arrested a medical orderly and an official Swedish photographer.

These seizures brought the number of Swedes believed held by the Katangese to 10.

PROVOCATION

In Paris, travelling Katanga president Moise Tshombe said that "everything is perfectly normal at Elisabethville and the whole of Katanga."

He described as "intolerable provocation" the new call of UN acting secretary-general U Thant for restoration of order in Katanga.

Tshombe said the Katanga people now consider the province a free nation and would fight back if the UN "undertakes a new armed intervention in violation of the cease fire" that ended the September fighting.

WEST DOESN'T WANT FRANCE IN TEST TALKS

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States and Britain have decided not to back Russia's bid to have France join the nuclear test ban talks, diplomatic sources said today.

Britain and the United States were reported to feel that the conference here should proceed with its present composition of the three original nuclear powers.

UNUSUAL STEP BY ENVQY

Soviet Note on A-Tests Rejected by Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today revealed that the Soviet Union has sought Canadian support for a nuclear test ban agreement without inspection and including France.

Diefenbaker told newsmen that he had received a Russian note and a letter from Soviet ambassador Amasasp A. Aroutunian outlining the Soviet position on the current Geneva test ban talks.

The note, regarded by diplomatic sources as unusual, suggested an agreement to end nuclear testing, but without the inspection sought by the west. Such an agreement would also include France in addition to the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, Diefenbaker said.

The prime minister gave details of the note following a speech to a conference of ethnic press editors of Canada. He said it was the first of its kind he had received from the Soviet Union.

The disclosure backed up reports in diplomatic circles that Russia may be seeking to use its embassy here as a bridge to understanding with the United States.

Diefenbaker told the editors that such an agreement with out provision for inspection would be "one of the most retrograde steps" and meant the abandonment of three years of efforts at Geneva during which Russia apparently sought agreement on inspection procedures.

"The Soviet Union has turned its back on an end to nuclear testing without controls," he said. "If you can't get an agreement in this field, you have to be an optimist to believe that we are approaching an era in which settlements on larger questions can be reached," the prime minister added.

O'BRIEN killed in Congo

U.K. 'Gutter Millionaires' Accused by Ex-UN Official

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien today charged British "gutter millionaires" with attempting to sabotage the UN Congo operation.

The controversial diplomat, who resigned last week from both his UN post and his position as an assistant in the Irish foreign office, said the British government was doing its utmost to "bring the United Nations operation to nothing."

The goal, O'Brien said, is to gain time for Katangese President Moise Tshombe so that he can establish a separate state.

O'Brien said the British press, led by publishing magnate Lord Beaverbrook, has conducted a hate campaign against him because his actions in Katanga thwarted the interests of British capitalists.

In a news conference, he also blamed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Lord Salisbury, copper-king Charles Waterhouse and Lord Lansdowne for helping thwart the UN Congo operation.

O'Brien also listed Sir Roy Welensky, the Rhodesian prime minister, among those working to "sabotage" the operation.

ON HIS OWN
Simultaneously, Irish minister of external affairs Frank Aiken issued a statement here saying:

O'Brien submitted his resignation on his own initiative. Aiken added that attacks against the 44-year-old Irish career diplomat had been "unfair and unjust."

However, the foreign minister dissociated himself and his government from statements O'Brien issued following his resignation.

Oil Import Quotas Stand For 6 Months

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy has rejected the pleas of oil protectionists and has decided not to distribute oil import quotas, at least for another half-year.

Turning aside a recommendation from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall for reductions in import quotas, Kennedy announced during the weekend that his emergency planning office will review the situation and prepare a new report to be completed by mid-1962.

Meanwhile, there will be no change in the American quota system.

CHILDREN OF INDIA

City Tots Rally Behind Campaign

A heart-warming feature of the current Times Children of India Fund appeal, is the response from Victoria's children.

Every day in the mailbox there come notes from local youngsters enclosing a few cents or a dollar or two.

Some are difficult to read and words sometimes misspelled but the net result is an obvious bond between our children here and pitifully depressed Indian youngsters.

The letter illustrated today is typical of those received by the Times. It was written by seven-year-old Lynda Ash on behalf of her three-year-old sister Kelly and herself.

To judge by the number of letters starting "Dear Mr. Times," a good number of children must think the paper is an old gentleman with a white beard somewhat like Santa Claus.

"Please take one dollar from myself and Brother for have died and others just "for those who are unable to help themselves."

One woman phoned the Times and was very upset because she could not give "a suitable amount" out of her pension cheque.

She was greatly relieved to hear that as little as a dollar would keep a child alive in India for two months and promised to pass the word on to her friends.

Fourth Island Tragedy

An 11-year-old hunter on Sunday shot and killed an elderly man near Buckley Bay, 14 miles south of Courtenay on the Island Highway.

Victim was Murdoch MacDonald, 70, a part-time mill worker, who was killed instantly at 1:45 p.m. by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

PICKING SALAL

RCMP from Cumberland said the boy fired at what he thought was a deer while the victim was picking salal and other greens for Christmas use.

The boy was hunting with his father and brother, all of Union Bay, about five miles north of the scene of the tragedy. After the shooting the party went to Union Bay to call police.

INQUEST TONIGHT

There have been no charges laid to date, police said.

An inquest will convene tonight in Courtenay, then adjourn to a later date for the hearing of evidence.

The fatality was the fourth to be credited to hunters to date this season on Vancouver Island. The first was at Metchoin, and the second and third only a week apart in the Alberni area.

WAR VETERAN

Mr. MacDonald came from Alberta 14 years ago to make his home at Buckley Bay. He served in both world wars, and took pride in the fact that his four oldest children were in the army in the Second World War.

Surviving are the widow, at home; two sons, Norman and Campbell, Fanny Bay, and three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Daunhauer, 625 Mount View Avenue, Colwood, and Mrs. Wilfred Brass and Edna, on the mainland.

'Growing Friendship' Observed By Anglicans, Roman Catholics

Archbishop Harold Sexton today referred to the "growing friendship" between Anglicans and Roman Catholics. He extended a warm welcome to Dom Cuthbert Butler, Abbot of Downside Abbey, England, and Abbot-president of the English Benedictine Congregation, who will address a joint Protestant-Roman Catholic meeting in Victoria High School auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m.

MONTE ROBERTS

If the kindly management will permit, and if the loyal constituents will be patient, I would like to borrow this space today for a personal purpose.

My purpose is to direct a few words of explanation to the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon.

I am afraid the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon may have received an erroneous impression, and I am most anxious to correct it.

I am afraid the impression absorbed by this gentleman who came to my door Friday afternoon was, approximately: "My goodness gracious, here's a real, genuine, hen-pecked husband."

And this is not the case at all. My Favorite Wife is most kind to me at all times, and allows me to do just as I wish.

You see, what was happening Friday afternoon was, I was putting around in the kitchen, cooking up some man-type edibles for consumption during the football game scheduled for the morrow.

Some of my friends were coming in to help me watch the game, and naturally, it takes a man to cook up man-type edibles.

And, quite naturally, I was wearing my white man's large size cooking apron.

So when I went to answer the door, and the gentleman asked me if I wanted to buy something, there I stood in my apron.

Now, that wouldn't have been so bad. But I am the unfortunate type who cannot give a simple "no" to a salesman.

I have to explain. "No, thanks," I said. "You see," I said, "my wife isn't home, and I'm not allowed to buy anything."

So you can see the Watkins man who came to my door Friday afternoon may have gained the wrong impression, and I thank one and all for this opportunity to correct it.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Victoria Kinsmen would like to give a new car for top prize in tonight's giant bingo at Memorial Arena — if they can find it.

The specially-ordered deluxe 1962 model coach, serviced, polished and ready to be won, disappeared at the weekend from a canopied lot at the rear of Olson Motors.

When the garage looked for it today and couldn't find it a salesman phoned bingo chairman Jack Phillion to ask if he had it.

He didn't, so police were told it is presumed stolen. "We'll have to substitute," Phillion said.

Ex-service women's branch of the Canadian Legion will hold a Christmas sale in the Britannia Legion auditorium, Blanshard Street, next Saturday from 1 to 4:30 p.m.

Seals were mailed on Nov. 10. Anyone who has not received them can contact campaign headquarters at 749 Broughton St. Tel. EV 2-4422.

Rum and sailors have been synonymous since long before the days of Nelson—but not if the sailor is only 19.

City parks committee today decided to undertake the role of peacemaker in an effort to head off a range war between riders and nature lovers in Thetis Lake Park.

Committee decided to seek a meeting with riding groups to discuss a complaint by Thetis Lake Park Nature Sanctuary Association that they were encroaching on the sanctuary.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan today called for an effort on all sides to re-establish a happy and sensible approach to development of the Columbia River.

"The people of Canada would give a great deal of credit to the individual who made the first move," he said.

"Something more than face-saving is involved."

Mr. Strachan said it is time "all these people who have been going berserk stopped going so and took a long look at the whole situation."

"Regardless of whether it is a federal blunder or a provincial blunder, a blunder has been made."

"I'm appealing to both the provincial and federal governments to establish a sensible relationship."

PASADENA-BOUND TO PLAY IN FAMED ROSE PARADE

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Joan Marsh, 17, of Victoria High School, is in a musician's seventh heaven today.

She is one of three instrumentalists picked from about 1,500 B.C. high school contestants to play in the famous 150-piece Robin Hood Band in the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena.

Two Vancouver instrumentalists have also been chosen. "I'm still suffering from shock," laughed Joan, interviewed in the music room at Victoria High School. "It's wonderful—just wonderful."

Joan was picked from four finalists chosen from 15 contestants from Vancouver Island school bands. She received the good news by phone from Victoria office of the Independent Order of Foresters, sponsors of the contest.

TAPES SENT
Instrumentalists in Britain, the United States and Canada competed for places in the band, and tapes of their trial recordings were sent to Pasadena for adjudication.

"There were about 1,500 entries from all parts of B.C.," an I.O.F. spokesman said.

Joan Marsh, described as a good all-around Grade 12 student, took up the euphonium six years ago when she was 11 years old.

She says most of the inspiration came from her elder brother, George, 20, who now plays euphonium with the 5th Medium Battery Band of the Royal Canadian Artillery in Victoria.

"I practice about one and a half hours a day, on week days, and a little less on Sunday," Joan said.

She also plays with the 92-piece Victoria High School band.

There is only one drawback. Joan will have to leave for Pasadena on Christmas night to rehearse with the Robin Hood Band ahead of the big parade.

She will wear the traditional Robin Hood uniform.

Sexy Paperbacks Alarm Aldermen

Children Buy Them With Ease

City health and welfare committee today showed alarm over sexy paperback books available to youngsters in store magazine racks.

Members indicated they felt the federal government should exercise greater control over "filthy" books.

But action—expected to take the shape of a city resolution to Ottawa requesting more stringent control—was withheld pending receipt of the library board's views on the situation.

EASY TO GET

Discussion arose out of a complaint by P. J. Tarr, 1137 Yates, who claimed "filthy literature" worse than officially banned books is readily available on magazine racks for lack of legislation barring them.

"This is a very difficult subject for a municipal council to deal with because it's a matter of importation," said Ald. A. W. Toone.

Ald. Toone indicated he preferred a qualified board of censors rather than ban books rather than customs personnel.

DECIDE THEMSELVES

"I disagree entirely with allowing children to get some of these books, but on the other hand, I'm very much concerned about restriction of the press and free speech for adults, who after all can decide these things for themselves."

Ald. Toone suggested a solution might lie in some system of segregation which would prevent certain books from being available to children on the open market while at the same time making them available for adults who wished to buy them.

ONLY WAY

City manager C. C. Wyatt said about the only thing city council could do is send a resolution to the federal government asking "more severe control" of undesirable books.

Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson suggested a request for the library board's views before a resolution is framed.

WEATHERSHIP PREPARED

They Celebrate 900 Miles Out

By AB KENT
Fifty-six men sail Tuesday to Station Papa for a rendezvous with Father Christmas.

Weather ship St. Catharines will be steaming her 200 square miles of stormy Pacific Ocean on Christmas and New Year's during her seven-week spell some 900 miles west of Juan de Fuca Strait.

But like all men who pledge themselves to the sea, the prospect of another voyage is not unpleasant—especially when it brings promise of a Christmas party with all the trimmings.

PLENTY OF FOOD
In ship's stores are 16 hefty turkeys, 18 hams, cases of Japanese oranges, boxes of nuts, candy and festive goodies.

Capt. James Sleight will pour a cup that cheers Christmas Day, and the men may have their own favorite refreshments to share with their mates.

The government service hasn't the same traditions as the navy when it comes to Christmas at sea, but as with all sea-going vessels, St. Catharines will have a fir tree at the masthead.

In the mess decks there will be decorated trees, small ones on the tables, a larger one in the recreation room.

MOVIE
For their holiday program—for those off-watch—there will be a movie: the crew has chosen from the regular list of titles.

But there will be business as usual in spite of the holiday.

Nothing short of disaster forces the weather ships from their lonely patrol on the high seas.

Even engine breakdown is not considered too serious because while on station the ships run on one, leaving the other in reserve.

And illness is rare. Once a man was flown ashore by RCAF flying boat, a crewman recalled.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Please let me know the difference between the French Croix de Guerre and the Medaille Militaire. EVE

A. The Croix de Guerre, instituted in 1915, is awarded to members of the French Army and Navy, or members of armies and navies of allies of France, of all ranks for an individual act of bravery in battle mentioned in French dispatches. The Medaille Militaire, instituted in 1852, is roughly equivalent to the DCM of Commonwealth armies. It is awarded to general officers in command of armies or admirals in charge of fleets, and to NCOs and men in the French Army and Navy for distinguished service in action. The Croix de Guerre is the greater honor.

Q. Would you give me the name and address of the warden of the B.C. penitentiary in New Westminster? G.J.

A. The warden is Thomas W. Hall, c/o the Provincial Penitentiary, New Westminster.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times." Editor, questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to answer questions of legal or medical nature. No will be attempted to put value on, or return, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

PAY INCREASE TO ENGINEERS

B.C. government stationary engineers have won raises ranging from $36 to $55 a month.

A B.C. Association of Employees' Association spokesman said confirmation that the raises are approved by the Treasury Board has been received today.

The engineers got exactly what they requested in all classifications, and the raises are retroactive to last April 1.

The award was seen as a hopeful sign that the government will grant a general civil service wage boost for next April 1.

Power Failure Follows Crash

A crop of weekend accidents on rain-slicked streets sent more than a dozen people to hospital and blacked out about 4,000 Saanich homes for an hour and 45 minutes Saturday evening.

The blackout resulted when a small English car missed a curve on Blenkinsop Road near Mount Douglas Cross Road, struck a power pole and overturned at 4:45 p.m.

Driver John A. Croft, 5230 Rambler, suffered only cuts to the forehead, for which he was treated at Royal Jubilee Hospital and released. His car was a total loss.

FEEDER LINE

The power pole was part of a feeder line carrying electricity to the Gordon-Ezard-Cordova Bay area.

The pole was not broken but one of the 12,000-volt lines was knocked down. At about 5:22 p.m. the loose wire brushed against a metal stay.

Witnesses reported three brilliant flashes and then a power blower. This cut off power in the Gordon Head, Cordova Bay, Blenkinsop Lake areas, and along parts of Royal Oak Avenue and the Patricia Bay Highway.

B.C. Electric and police switchboards were swamped with calls.

Repair crews had the power restored by 7:07 p.m.

SECOND TIME

Another unusual stroke of fate Saturday saw a five-year-old boy struck by a car for the second time in three months at the intersection of Oak Bay Avenue and Poul Bay.

In good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital is Gordon Gillis, 1056 Poul Bay. He is suffering a broken shoulder and head injuries.

Oak Bay police said the boy was struck by a car as he crossed Oak Bay Avenue about 2 p.m. A wheel of the car was reported to have passed over the boy's chest.

Driver was identified as Eleanor Dora Tomford, 2506 Wootton Crescent.

JUMPED CURB

Three months ago young Gordon received severe head and eye injuries when a car jumped the curb at the same spot and struck him.

A 23-year-old woman was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital later in the afternoon after being in collision with a car at Douglas and Broughton.

Dief Rejects
Soviet's Note
On Atom Tests

OTTAWA (UPI)—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker today revealed that the Soviet Union has sought Canadian support for a nuclear test ban agreement without inspection and including France.

Diefenbaker told newsmen that he had received a Russian note and a letter from Soviet ambassador Amasasp A. Aroutunian outlining the Soviet position on the current Geneva test ban talks.

The note, regarded by diplomatic sources as unusual, suggested an agreement to end nuclear testing, but without the inspection sought by the west. Such an agreement would also include France in addition to the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, Diefenbaker said.

The prime minister gave details of the note following a speech to a conference of ethnic press editors of Canada. He said it was the first of its kind he had received from the Soviet Union.

The disclosure backed up reports in diplomatic circles that Russia may be seeking to use its embassy here as a bridge to understanding with the United States.

Diefenbaker told the editors that such an agreement without provision for inspection would be "one of the most retrograde steps" and meant the abandonment of three years of efforts at Geneva during which Russia apparently sought agreement on inspection procedures.

"The Soviet Union has turned its back on an end to nuclear testing without controls," he said. "If you can't get an agreement in this field, you have to be an optimist to believe that we are approaching an era in which settlements on larger questions can be reached," the prime minister added.

FANCY DRESS

Women Boycott Queen

BATHURST, Gambia (Reuters)—Wolof tribeswomen, whose exotic dress makes them the fashion plates of Africa, Sunday appeared to have boycotted the visit of the Queen.

Their huge turbans and beaded dresses were not seen in the crowds lining the streets to welcome the Queen and Philip.

Government officials speculated that the women might have dressed in modern clothes because they didn't want to be made a spectacle—even for the Queen.

Another reason for the boycott was suggested when it was

11-YEAR-OLD HUNTER
KILLS MAN IN WOODSVictim, Age 70,
Picking Salal

An 11-year-old hunter on Sunday shot and killed an elderly man near Buckley Bay, 14 miles south of Courtenay on the Island Highway.

Victim was Murdock MacDonald, 70, a part-time mill-worker, who was killed instantly at 1:45 p.m. by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

The accident occurred about one mile west of Buckley Bay in a second-growth forest reached by logging roads.

PICKING SALAL

RCMP from Cumberland said the boy fired at what he thought was a deer while the victim was picking salal and other greens for Christmas use.

The boy was hunting with his father and brother, all of Union Bay, about five miles north of the scene of the tragedy. After the shooting the party went to Union Bay to call police.

INQUEST TONIGHT

There have been no charges laid to date, police said. An inquest will convene tonight in Courtenay; then adjourn to a later date for the hearing of evidence.

The fatality was the fourth to be credited to hunters to date this season on Vancouver Island. The first was at Metchoin, and the second and third only a week apart in the Alberni area.

WAR VETERAN

Mr. MacDonald came from Alberta 14 years ago to make his home at Buckley Bay. He served in both world wars, and took pride in the fact that his four oldest children were in the army in the Second World War.

Surviving are the widow, at home; two sons, Norman and Campbell, Fanny Bay, and three daughters, Mrs. J. A. Daunhauer, 625 Mount View Avenue, Colwood, and Mrs. Wilfred Brass and Edna, on the mainland.

KATANGA

UN Planes
Will Be Shot Down

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo (UPI)—The Katanga government today threatened to shoot down any United Nations aircraft flying over its territory, the UN reported.

A few hours earlier, Katanga gendarmes killed one Swede of the UN force, wounded two others and seized three prisoners in Elisabethville's worst day of violence since the widespread fighting in September.

UN civilian employees in Elisabethville reported this morning that they had been ordered to pack their belongings and be ready for repatriation to Leopoldville.

George Ivan Smith, top UN official here, said Katangese Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba issued the threat to the planes shortly after midnight.

SERIOUS VIEW

Smith said he told Kimba he took a "most serious view" of the matter and would report it to UN headquarters in New York immediately.

One Swede was shot dead and two wounded Sunday when their car was fired on by Katangese at a roadblock near the centre of the city.

GEORGE SMITH
... reveals Katanga threat

Sunday night, the Katanga government said in a statement that the car tried to crash the roadblock set up by the gendarmes, ignoring challenges from the guards.

The statement claimed the driver was killed when the car crashed into a tree after the gendarmes fired at the car's tires. But an Italian doctor who operated on the two wounded Swedes said they had been shot at "point blank range."

Later, Katangese gendarmes stopped a Swedish UN ambulance and arrested a medical orderly and an official Swedish photographer.

These seizures brought the number of Swedes believed held by the Katangese to 10.

PROVOCATION

In Paris, travelling Katanga president Moise Tshombe said that "everything is perfectly normal at Elisabethville and the whole of Katanga."

He described as "intolerable provocation" the new call of UN acting secretary-general U Thant for restoration of order in Katanga.

Tshombe said the Katanga people now consider the province a free nation and would fight back if the UN "undertakes a new armed intervention in violation of the cease fire" that ended the September fighting.

Reds Narrow Openings
At Berlin Checkpoints

BERLIN (UPI)—A U.S. army battle group of 1,500 troops today started rolling toward Berlin where American and Communist soldiers faced each other from positions less than 15 yards apart at the tense Friedrichstrasse Crossing point.

The battle group was ordered here to replace 1,500 troops of the 18th Infantry. About 100 men of the 18th left this morning for their home base at Mannheim, West Germany.

This convoy passed through Communist territory along the autobahn and cleared the Helmstedt checkpoint after an uneventful 110-mile ride.

The large troop exchange had been decided previously, but the start of it coincided with Communist actions in narrowing gaps in crossing points between East and West Berlin.

JEEP BLOCKED

Two U.S. military cars today stopped and blocked a Soviet jeep in West Berlin less than one mile from Friedrichstrasse.

The American vehicles parked only inches away from the Soviet jeep which was occupied by one Russian officer and two enlisted men.

East German workers—tolling under floodlights and guarded by members of their own people's army—Sunday night erected a six-foot-high concrete barrier most of the way across Friedrichstrasse, the only crossing point for non-Germans.

Other points for the few West Germans who still cross the border were narrowed to three-yard-wide traffic lanes and pedestrian paths.

CHILDREN OF INDIA

City Tots Rally Behind Campaign

A heart-warming feature of the current Times Children of India Fund appeal is the response from Victoria's children.

Every day in the mailbox there come notes from local youngsters, enclosing a few cents or a dollar or two.

Some are difficult to read and words sometimes misspelled but the net result is an obvious bond between our children here and pitifully depressed Indian youngsters.

The letter illustrated today is typical of those received by the Times. It was written by seven-year-old Lynda Ash on behalf of her three-year-old sister Kelly and herself.

To judge by the number of letters starting "Dear Mr. Times" a good number of children must think the paper is an old gentleman with a white beard somewhat like Santa Claus.

"Please take one dollar from myself and Brother for children's fund from D and B," read another note from two children aged six and seven.

Our children show they care. At the other end of the scale, Victoria's senior citizens also are taking the Indian children to their hearts. Many of the older folk are in poor circumstances themselves but they continue to send in anything they can. Some of the donations from this group are in the names of children of loved ones who have died and others just "for those who are unable to help themselves."

One woman phoned the Times and was very upset because she could not give "a suitable amount" out of her pension cheque.

She was greatly relieved to hear that as little as a dollar would keep a child alive in India for two months and promised to pass the word on to her friends.

Donations are deductible from taxable income and can be sent or brought to "The Times Children of India Fund," 2631 Douglas. (See donations Page 3.)

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Dr. Conor Cruise O'Brien today charged British "gutter millionaires" with attempting to sabotage the UN Congo operation.

The controversial diplomat, who resigned last week from both his UN post and his position as an assistant in the Irish foreign office, said the British government was doing its utmost to "bring the United Nations operation to nothing."

The goal, O'Brien said, is to gain time for Katangese President Moise Tshombe so that he can establish a separate state.

BEAVERBROOK NAMED

O'Brien said the British press, led by publishing magnate Lord Beaverbrook, has conducted a hate campaign against him because his actions in Katanga thwarted the interests of British capitalists.

In a news conference, he also blamed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Lord Salisbury, copper king Charles Waterhouse and Lord Landsdowne for helping thwart the UN Congo operation.

O'Brien also listed Sir Roy Welensky, the Rhodesian prime minister, among those working to "sabotage" the operation.

Simultaneously, Irish minister of external affairs Frank

Aiken issued a statement here saying:

O'Brien submitted his resignation on his own initiative. Aiken added that attacks against the 44-year-old Irish career diplomat had been "unfair and unjust."

However, the foreign minister dissociated himself and his government from statements O'Brien issued following his resignation.

Oil Import Quotas Stand For 6 Months

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy has rejected the pleas of oil protectionists and has decided not to disturb present oil import quotas at least for another half-year.

Turning aside a recommendation from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall for reductions in import quotas, Kennedy announced during the weekend that his emergency planning office will review the situation and prepare a new report to be completed by mid-1962.

Meanwhile, there will be no change in the American quota system.

Charges Should Be Laid In Hunting Deaths—Jury

ALBERNI — Negligence on the part of Ronald Pitman, 18, was blamed for the hunting death Nov. 25 of Felix Theodore Brooks, 11, a B.C. Forest Service employee.

Verdict was returned by a coroner's jury which deliberated for three hours Friday night after hearing evidence in the case, and made five recommendations for the safety of hunters:

1. Hunters of deer or big game should carry binoculars or a telescope to distinguish the game they intend to shoot.
2. All hunters should carry some form of personal liability insurance.

3. Every person who kills another person in a hunting accident should be charged under the Criminal Code.

4. Age of an adult under the Game Act should be raised from 18 years to 21 years.

5. Hunting hours should be confined to those between one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

Foreman of the jury was Chris Holcombe, a well-known local woodsman.

According to evidence, Brooks, Henry Doerksen, Melvin Cooper and James Darby had separated just minutes before the accident, and Doerksen and Brooks were together when a shot was fired and Brooks fell.

Doerksen called for help, and Darby returned to the scene.

Other evidence showed Pitman and two other juveniles, who were on a lower road, jumped on motorcycles and road away after the shot was fired.

One of the juveniles, however, stopped a car and led the occupants to the dead man.

AT LADYSMITH

Youth Drowns In Pier Plunge

LADYSMITH—An inquest will be held later this week into the death of Ralph Wilcox, 18, who drowned Friday night when the car in which he was riding plunged off the government wharf here.

Ladysmith RCMP said today it will be conducted by Coroner Dr. H. W. Lewis of Nanaimo.

The accident victim was one of three local juveniles in the car. The other two, whose names have not been released by police, escaped from the car by smashing the windows.

They made their own way to the wharf, then walked to the police office to report the tragedy.

The car was found in 25 feet of water and the body was recovered.

One of the survivors was the driver of the car, which belongs to his father. Both boys were treated at Ladysmith General Hospital and released.

"We drove down the wharf and when we came to the end the driver applied the brakes. It was slippery. The car slid, hit the rail, and turned over into the water," one of the survivors said.

The victim was the son of Percy Wilcox, well-known laundry proprietor here.
